Ulster County C. E. Convention In Port Ewen

Thirty-seventh Annual Session at Reformed Church — Convention Closes This Evening—Officers Nominated for Election—Interesting Address Delivered by Dr. Scofield.

The thirty-seventh annual convention of the Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union convened this morning in the Reformed Church at Port Ewen, continued with an afternoon session and closes with an evening session tonight when the newly elected officers will be installed and the address of the evening delivered by the Rev. Henry D. Decker of Hurley.

Between forty and fifty delegates registered for the opening session of the convention but in the afternoon the registration was largely increased. Luther C. Dixon, president of the Ulster County Union, presided at the morning session and introduced the Rev. W. A. Dalton of Highland, pastoral counsellor of the union, who read the Scripture lesson and led in prayer.

The church was artistically decorated with cut flowers and Christian Endeavor emblems, and the address of welcome to the delegates was delivered by the Rev. Philip Goertz, pastor of the entertaining church, who said the conventions were good things and brought out three points in his brief address. The first was the exchange of thoughts and ideas by the gathering together of Christian Endeavor workers from all sections of Ulster county the second was freedom of thought, and the third the encouragement to work out the problems connected with the work of the society and of the church.

Officers Nominated.

President Dixon appointed Luther S. Decker of Kingston, Mrs. M. E. Maynard of Highland and Miss Costello as a nominating committee. This committee will submit the following report for action at the afternoon session:

For president—Henry A. Lamouree of Saugerties; secretary, Milton P. Townsend of Kingston; junior superintendent, Mrs. J. J. Donovan of Highland; intermediate superintendent, Martha Gifford of Saugerties; missionary superintendent, Florence Dimler of Saugerties; treasurer, Edwin H. Hummel of Port Ewen; pastoral counsellor, the Rev. A. J. Coffey of Phoenicia; senior superintendent, the Rev. Edwin D. Miner of New Paltz; quiet hour superintendent, Mrs. Burton Clum of Katsbaan; extension superintendent, A. J. Longyear of Phoenicia; citizenship superintendent, J. W. Frankel of Saugerties, and New York convention booster, for 1928, Mrs. M. E. Maynard of Highland.

Committee on Resolutions.

President Dixon appointed the following resolutions committee: the Rev. Edwin D. Miner of New Paltz, Mrs. Raymond Smith of Hurley and Mrs. George Brown of Highland.

Pastors Spoke Briefly

The Rev. Mr. Van Tol of Stone Ridge and the Rev. Mr. Hewitt of Pine Hill were called upon for a few remarks by President Dixon and both spoke briefly of the importance of work among the young people and urging greater efficiency in carrying on the work of the Christian Endeavor movement in Ulster county.

Dr. Scofield's Address

The address of the morning was delivered by the Rev. Dr. George H. Scofield, first vice president of the New York State Christian Endeavor Union, who delivered an able address on the Christian Endeavor movement and what it meant in the lives of young people. At the close of Dr. Scofield's address an adjournment was taken and the delegates enjoyed a picnic lunch in the new hall that has been recently completed to the church property, and of which the congregation are very proud.

The convention again convened at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon and closes with the evening session tonight.

TOM MIX'S WIFE MAY ABANDON DIVORCE PLAN.

Paris, Oct. 20 (AP).—The publicity given in Paris to the reported intention of Mrs. Virginia Forde Mix to seek a divorce here from her cowboy-film actor husband, Tom Mix, has alarmed the attorney general's office. The office today sent instructions to the Judges' Department of the Seine that laws regarding divorces of foreigners must be rigorously applied in case Mrs. Mix files suit.

It is understood that this already had been intimated to Mrs. Mix and that she has about abandoned any idea of attempting to divorce the screen actor here because of delays and difficulties involved.

MEXICO PROVIDES DEATH FOR MOTOR CAR THIEVES

Mexico City, Oct. 20 (AP).—Theoretically, the death penalty applies to automobile thieves in Mexico. An old decree was dug up in government files by an investigator, who could not ascertain that it had ever been repealed, to the effect that every person stealing an automobile should be tried by drumhead court martial and if guilty shot by a firing squad. The degree has not been applied in recent years.

Rev. Schmidtkonz Dies at His Home

Former Pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church Was Widely Known as Able and Forceful Minister—Retired Several Years Ago.

REV. ADAM SCHMIDTKONZ

The Rev. Adam Schmidtkonz, widely known Lutheran minister, died Friday evening at his home on Washington avenue. The Rev. Mr. Schmidtkonz was pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church on Spring street for 35 years, retiring from the pastorate of that church several years ago. For some time he has been acting as a supply to the Lutheran Church in Ravena. The Rev. Mr. Schmidtkonz is survived by his wife, two sons, William of San Francisco and the Rev. Louis Schmidtkonz of New York city, and three daughters, Miss Hannah Schmidtkonz of Mount Holly, N. J., and the Misses Lena and Sophie Schmidtkonz at home.

Was Born in Bavaria.

The Rev. Mr. Schmidtkonz was born at Etzenstadt, Bavaria, Germany, in 1858, the son of Mathias and Barbara Weis Schmidtkonz, and obtained his classical and theological education at the famous institutions of his native country. In 1878 he came to America, and attended for a year the Theological Seminary of the Lutheran Synod of Iowa, to perfect himself in the English language.

He was ordained at Cedar Falls, Iowa, on July 2, 1879, and was sent to Kansas to engage in mission work, where he remained until 1882, establishing a number of German Lutheran congregations. He was then transferred to Port Chester, N. Y., where he had charge of St. Paul's Church until 1888, when he became pastor of the Spring Street Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Mr. Schmidtkonz had been identified with many important offices of the Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium of the state of New York, and from 1889 to 1899 he was president of the Albany Conference of that organization.

On September 12, 1881, he was united in marriage at Tipton, Kan., to Miss Anna Berkemeier, daughter of the well-known Rev. W. Berkemeier, who founded the German Lutheran Emigrant Home of New York.

Forceful and Able Minister.

During the many years that the Rev. Mr. Schmidtkonz was pastor of the Spring Street Lutheran Church, he became widely known as a forceful and able minister, and he was held in high esteem not only by the members of his own congregation but by the city at large.

During the early days of the World War, Pastor Schmidtkonz was strongly pro-German in his views as expressed privately and publicly, for which he became the target of more or less harsh criticism. But from the time that the United States entered the war his views and utterances became diametrically opposed to those he had held before, and at all times the United States government had no more firm or staunch supporter than Pastor Schmidtkonz.

The funeral of the Rev. Mr. Schmidtkonz will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, but the place of holding the funeral services has not been selected as yet. Interment in Montrepose cemetery.

THREE JAIL PRISONERS FROM TOWN OF ULSTER

The town of Ulster contributed its quota to the jail population Friday. Almo Lynn was given 10 days or $10 by Judge Jennings on a charge of disorderly conduct. Elizabeth Piggi was held to await the action of the grand jury on a charge of burglary, second degree, by the same justice, and John Lynn was sentenced to 30 days in jail for resisting an officer and also given 25 days or a $25 fine for assault, third degree. He took the 25 days.

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR COMING WEEK

Following is the weather outlook for week beginning Monday:

North and Middle Atlantic States: A period of showers Tuesday or Wednesday and again at the end of the week. Temperatures slightly below normal first part of week, moderating somewhat Tuesday with colder Thursday or Friday.

See Final Solution Of Reparations

Conferences Culminate in Genuine Progress Toward Reconciliation of Various Views on German Reparations.

Paris, Oct. 20 (AP).—With the exchange of views between interested governments continuing, high hope was held today in competent circles that the final solution of the vexed question of German reparations was in sight.

Conferences among J. P. Morgan, Premier Poincare, S. Parker Gilbert, Jr., agent-general for reparations, and Winston Churchill, British chancellor of the exchequer, are understood to have culminated in genuine progress toward reconciliation of various views.

An attempt now will be made to bring the other allies—Italy, Belgium and Japan—and Germany into line. Further conferences will be held in Berlin in December.

Choice of the committee of experts, agreed on at Geneva in September, rests between leading financiers, acting with full independence like the authors of the Dawes plan, or high officials bound by instructions of their respective governments. Officials are understood to be favored at present.

The French delegates are expected to be selectd at a cabint meeting called for October 30.

The presence of Mr. Morgan at the Negotiations is interpreted as showing that both France and Great Britaain desire to confirm the recent decision to request American unofficial members or a member to participate in the discussions.

Although an official communique stated that the discussion concerned the constitution of the committee of experts, it is understood generally that revision of the Dawes plan, the very basis of the reparation problem, was considered at length.

The Havas Agency says Premier Poincaire and Mr. Churchill are in agreement on all essential principles. The British contention as set forth in the Balfour note has been that demand should be made from Germany and allied debtors only for such payments as are indispensable to meet Great Britains' indebtedness to the United States. The French policy has been that France must obtain from Germany enough to repay the United States in addition to a refund of expenses incurred in reconstruction of devastated regions.

Ottinger Attacks State Problems

Syracuse, Oct. 20 (AP).—The first week of Albert Ottinger's active campaign for the governorship drew toward a close today with the candidate carrying the Republican message to Utica, here he planned to spend the week end.

During the week, which began with his acceptance speech in New York, Monday night and was continued with a speaking tour which has included overnight stops in Elmira, Rochester, Buffalo and Syracuse, Attorney General Ottinger has stressed particularly national problems, such as the protective tariff and the qualifications of Herbert Hoover for the presidency.

Last night, however, he continued the attack on state problems begun in Buffalo, with a discussion of railroad grade crossing elimination, in which he asserted that the people have not been given the prompt action to which they are entitled since they voted a bond issue of $300,000,000 for the purpose.

He pledged that if elected governor he would undertake to obtain prompt action even, he said, "though in order to get action we are obliged to lay aside pride of opinion as to non-essential details".

He reiterated also his stand that when the state takes property in pursuance of public policy it must pay promptly and fully in the name of "common honesty". This course would apply, he said, not only to land needed for eliminating grade crossings but also in the case of cattle condemned and killed by the state.

VICE PRESIDENT'S BUTLER RODE BIKE WITHOUT LIGHTS

Chicago, Oct. 20 (AP).—There are some odd laws to watch out for, even if one be "Jenkins, Sir" butler to the vice president of the United States.

They arested Jenkins (do butlers have first names?) for riding a bicycle without a light on it.

"I'm Jenkins, sir," he said, "butler to Vice President Dawes, sir."

The police went into a huddle and decided the infraction was really not as heinous as might appear, especially since it was Jenkins. So they gave him a good talking to and let it go at that.

Ostrander Has the Dahlias.

The article in The Freeman Friday evening, which noted the attractive dahlia display in the show window of Ostrander & Woolsey, should have stated that the floral arrangement is in the clothing store of Walt Ostrander on North Front street. Mr. Ostrander, who raised the dahlias in his own garden, has been sole proprietor of the store for some time.

Stinging Censure for New Campaign Attack on Hoover

Governor of Mississippi, Credited With Saying Hoover Danced With Negress, Told by Hoover Headquarters that Statement Is Unqualifiedly False.

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP).—Governor Theodore G. Bilbo, of Mississippi was the recipient today of a stinging message of censure from Herbert Hoover's General Headquarters because of a statement attributed to him that the Republican presidential nominee had danced with a negro which was branded as "indecent" and "unqualifiedly false."

George Akerson, Mr. Hoover's assistant, took cognizance of remarks credited to the Governor in southern newspapers and telegraphed to him one of the sharpest messsages of the campaign.

"You are quoted by the press in the south," Akerson said, "as having stated in a public address that Herberet Hoover on one of his flood relief trips got off the train at Mound Bayou, Miss., and paid a call on a colored woman and later danced with her.

"That statement is unqualifiedly false. There is not the slightest foundation for it. It is the most indecent and unworthy statement in the whole of a bitter campaign."

Asserting that he was with Hoover "every hour of the four months while he was engaged in the flood," the nominee's assistant declard that the then Secretary of Commerce "gave all that was in him to a task necessitating experience and influence which no other man in the United States possessed and for which the gratitude of the state of Mississippi was unanimously expressed by its legislature."

Did Not Leave Train Platform.

Akerson said Hoover was never in Mound Bayou except for a three-minute stop of his train there and that he never left the platform of the train, but received a memorial from the negro people of that vicinity "for the service he had rendered their race."

He added that Hoover never took a moment from his responsibilities to attend a social gathering anywhere during the flood period and expressed the opinion that if any person in Mississippi should be led to vote for or against Hoover "upon a representation of this kind it would forever be a most infamous blot on the record of the state of Mississippi."

This was the second time during the campaign that Akerson had taken cognizance of attacks levelled at the Republican nominee. Hoover and his associates at general headquarters have been silent under assaults from the camp of the opponents on campaign issues and this silence has been broken only when matters were brought up which in their judgment had nothing to do with the campaign.

Darrow Denied Making Statement.

The first statement issued by Akerson was after Senator Bruce, Democrat, Maryland, had stated in a speech that Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer, had said he had had a drink with Herbert Hoover. The nominee's assistant said Hoover had not taken a drink since he became a constitutional officer of the United States government and subsequently Darrow denied that he had said he had drunk with Hoover.

Hoover, himself, is keeping clear of these matters as he is determined not to engage in controversies. He also has refrained from any statements regarding "whispers" said to have been circulated about him as he does not feel he should dignify them with formal notice. However, when a statement was sent out on the official stationery of the Republican national committee urging women of Virginia to save the country from being "Romanized" he quickly repudiated such campaign tactics.

Goes To New York Sunday.

The nominee had a fairly busy program today at his headquarters with conferences with party leaders and visiting groups. He had concluded work on the speech which he is to deliver Monday night at New York and will leave for that city tomorrow afternoon, returning here Tuesday. This will be his last campaign trip in the east and a week after his return he will start for California.

FOREIGN HEAVYWEIGHT TAKES AMERICAN BRIDE.

New York, Oct. 20 (AP).—A second foreign heavyweight has taken an American bride back to his homeland after showing his wares in American rings.

This one is Pierre Charles of Belgium, whose marriage to Miss Emelia Reureux, in Detroit some time ago, was announced today. Like Tom Heeney, the New Zealand heavyweight who was married here shortly after his championship match with Gene Tunney, Charles has taken his bride back to his homeland for a short stay.

Dates for Motor Driving Tests.

Until further notice motor driving tests will be given of operators having applications for same filed with the local motor vehicle bureau on Thursdays, all day, and on Saturday mornings.

2 Children Die In Fall from Roof

Small Grandsons of the Late Benjamin Guggenheim Fall 13 Stories to Their Death from Roof of Hotel Surrey.

New York, Oct. 20 (AP).—Two small grandsons of the late Benjamin Guggenheim, copper magnate, playing on the roof of the Hotel Surrey in East 76th street, fell 13 stories to their death over the low roof wall yesterday afternoon.

The older of the two boys, Terrence, 4, knocked his baby brother, Benjamin, 15 months, over the wall as he attempted to jump into his mother's lap and then lost his balance and also fell.

Their mother, Mrs. Milton Waldman of New York and London, youngest daughter of Mr. Guggenheim, who was lost on the Titanic, fainted and remained in a prostrated condition for several hours. Mr. Waldman, a writer and former New York newspaperman, is assistant editor of the London Mercury. He is a member of a prominent Cleveland family.

Mrs. Waldman recently returned from England and had been visiting at the Hotel Plaza suite of her mother, Mrs. Benjamin Guggenheim. She had gone to call on Mrs. Cornelius Ruxton Love, her cousin, in her beautiful penthouse apartment on the Surrey roof.

Mrs. Love was not at home but had left word for Mrs. Waldman and her two children to await her return in the roof garden. They had gone to the edge of the roof, Mrs. Waldman holding the baby in her arms. Apparently jealous of the attention given his brother, Terrence climbed to the seat of a swing and attempted to jump into his mother's arms. The baby was knocked from her arms over the low wall and Terrence, losing his balance, followed.

Their bodies landed on a three-story building a hundred feet below. The medical examiner said they had been killed instantly.

A painter working on the roof was the only witness to the events leading up to the tragedy but many pedestrians and persons in adjoining buildings saw the two little bodies falling through the air.

The Waldmans were married in 1923 after Mrs. Waldman's divorce from her first husband, Sigmund Marshall Kempner. Mrs. Waldman received approximately $1,000,000 under her father's will in the form of a trust fund. She is 28 years old.

Complaints Keep City Police Busy

There was but one case in police court before Judge Shufeldt this morning, that of Samuel Bush of Sleightsburgh, who was charged with public intoxication. Bush, who was arrested on East Strand, Friday afternoon, by Officer John J. Schick was given five days in jail because he lacked $5 to pay his fine.

Stone Thrown Through Window.

Police headquarters received a 'phone call at 9:40 p. m. Friday, saying that a stone had been thrown through a window in the house at 118 Third avenue. Officer Relyea was detailed to investigate, but owing to conditions action in the matter had to be postponed until today. The police are still working on the case. The stone brought to headquarters by Police Officer Relyea, and alleged to have been thrown through a window in the house, was about the size of a baseball.

Buick Stolen in Newburgh.

Local policemen on night duty were informed Friday to be on the lookout for a Buick sedan stolen in Newburgh. The license of the car, a 1926 model, which is blue in color, is 8X6316, New York state. The motor number is 1668047. The car is the property of Abe Nagle, 87 Overlook Place, Newburgh.

Boy Struck by Auto.

John Grabiec of 57 Murray street reported to the police Friday night that while driving his car south on Hasbrouck avenue he struck a boy, who was playing in the road. According to the report the youngster refused to give his name, saying that he was not hurt.

BOMB HOTEL OWNED BY FORMER "DRY" AGENT

Chicago, Oct. 20 (AP).—Bombers tossed a black powder missle onto a rear porch of the Crescent Arms Hotel on Sheridan Road last night. The explosion wrecked the rear of the building, injured one woman and threw several of the hotel's 160 guests from their beds.

Persons trying to gain control of the hotel were blamed by police for the blast. Earl Leatherman, who with his wife owns the building, formerly was a prohibition agent. He discredited theories, however, that the bomb was placed by persons he arrested on liquor charges.

Hundreds of persons were leaving the Sheridan Theatre nearby when the explosion occurred.

Will Play All Games.

All games will be played at the card party to be held in St. Mary's School Hall, Tuesday night, October 23. High scorers will be honored. Refreshments will be served. Dancing will follow the card party.

Conner Has Made Good Coroner

Republican Candidate for Re-election to Important Office Has Met Difficult Problems in Satisfactory Manner.

W. NORMAN CONNER

The office of coroner of the county of Ulster is an important office, an office which requires a man of experience and ability. The number of deaths through accident or by violence or resulting from sudden illness is annually increasing and it is necessary that an official shall be in easy call. In such emergencies the duties fall on a coroner of the county and not only should he be a man who is within easy access but he should be a man of experience and judgment.

In the nomination of W. Norman Conner of this city the Republican party has recognized the importance of this office and has selected a man who not only may be easily reached at any and all times but the Republican nominee has had many years' experience in just such emergencies as a coroner of the county is called upon to meet in the performance of his duties. W. Norman Conner has filled the office of coroner on previous occasions and again this year was selected for renomination. Mr. Conner's record speaks for itself.

During the past few years Mr. Conner has been called upon many times to meet the emergencies which comes with election to this important office and he has met these difficult problems and solved them to the satisfaction of everyone.

Mr. Conner, born and bred in Ulster county, is well known to the people of practically every town and hamlet in the county. At all times he stands ready to meet the call to duty. His record in the past is one of prompt, courteous and efficient service. There should be no question in the minds of the voters of the county on election when a vote for W. Norman Conner will be an expression of approval of the kind of service which Mr. Conner has given to the public during his past terms as a coroner of the county.

W. Norman Conner not only knows the duties of this important office from past experience as coroner and as an undertaker but beside his knowledge of the duties of the office he is equipped to care for the work in the best possible manner. Maintaining day and night connections it is possible at all hours to get in touch with him. In connection with his undertaking business he maintains a private ambulance service and also the other equipment which fits him for the job of coroner.

W. Norman Conner on his past record should be elected by a large majority to the office of coroner on election.

KILLED BY ANOTHER WOMAN SHOOTING DEER.

Colton, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP).—Mrs. Fred Myers, 30, of Lake Placid, was shot and instantly killed by Mrs. Amber Reed, also of Lake Placid, while the two were hunting deer near here yesterday. A verdict of accidental death was issued by Dr. W. H. Swartz, of Colton, acting coroner.

Mrs. Reed told the coroner she fired at a deer during the afternoon and missed. When the party returned to camp, Mrs. Myers was missed and a search was started. The body was found by Mrs. Reed's husband, who was in the party, and from its position Mrs. Reed said Mrs. Myer apparently was standing just beyond the deer and in the line of fire.

YOUTH HANGS SELF IN STEUBEN COUNTY JAIL.

Bath, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP).—Sixteen year old Joseph Egrie of Bath committed suicide by hanging himself in his cell at the Steuben county jail during the night.

The youth's body was found by jail authorities this morning. He had pulled his mattress apart and used a cord from it to suspend himself from the side of the cell.

Young Egrie, who at one time was in the State Agricultural and Industrial School at Industry, was placed in the jail for a misdemeanor. An official from Elmira Reformatory was to have examined him today.

Register before 10 o'clock tonight or lose your vote. Don't be a slacker.

Supervisors Act on County Highway and Bridge Repairs

Appropriations for Three Bridges Damaged by Summer Floods—Allotment Made for Repairs to Sixteen Highways — Board Pays Respect to Supervisors Schantz and Patten.

Highway matters mainly were acted upon at the special meeting of the board of supervisors of Ulster county held on Friday evening at the court house. After roll call and approving of the previous session as recorded, Clerk Henry R. DeWitt read communications from Town Clerk Lorin S. Canahan of Lloyd announcing the appointment by the town board of Lloyd of James W. Feeter of Highland as supervisor of the town to fill vacancy caused by the death of Philip Schantz, he having filed the necessary bond and taken the constitutional oath. The action of the board was approved.

A communication was read from Martha Schantz expressing her thanks and appreciation to the supervisors for the beautiful floral tribute to her husband upon his death. Filed.

County Superintendent of Highways James F. Loughran in a communication stated that it would be necessary to secure "I" beams for certain bridges to be repaired and that there would be a cost of not exceeding $3,000 for each bridge.

The county treasurer reported that there had been sold at the unpaid tax sale 418 parcels and the county had to bid in 13 parcels on which the amount due was $1,914.01 to pay for same. As the county treasurer has in excess of $4,000 from interest received at sale he would be enabled to pay the $1,914.01 out of the fund in his hands.

Abandon Sections of Highways

County Superintendent of Highways Loughran reported that some short stretches of highways had to be abandoned by order of the State Highway Department in order to clean up small roads, being the Milton-Marlborough, Highland-Landing, Wallkill-Newburgh, Old Post road, and Kingston-Rifton road, a distance in all of two and one half miles. It was later moved and adopted that Road 35, town of Shandaken, be substituted for maintenance instead of the pieces abandoned, the length being the two and one half miles.

A petition was read from the town board of Shawangunk for improvement of the Four Corners-Uisterville road to town of Mamakating, Sullivan county line.

A petition was read from 80 residents of the town of Hurley requesting that Maverick road be repaired. Filed.

A petition was read with 100 signatures that repairs to the Tongore bridge be hurried. It was swept away by the flood and a detour of four miles had to be made to cover a stretch of 300 feet.

Chairman Davis announced the appointment of Supervisor Feeter to succeed former Supervisor Schantz on the committees on equalization, town expenses, rules and as one of the county highway officials. Supervisor Moyle was named as a member of the committees on town and county accounts, and on coroner, in place of Supervisor Fox, deceased.

County Appropriations for Bridges.

Supervisor Halliday offered a resolution that $3,500 be appropriated by the county for Crawford bridge; Supervisor Davis, that $3,500 be appropriated for repair of Lawrenceville bridge; Supervisor Rippert, that $3,500 be appropriated for repairs to Limekill bridge on Startup road, town of Wawarsing. Adopted.

Supervisors Avery and Dusinberrie offered a resolution that the county superintendent of highways be authorized to erect temporary bridges washed away by the flood, until permanent bridges can be constructed. Adopted.

Supervisor Elwyn offered a resolution, which was adopted, that whereas duplication of assessments on property had been found on rolls in the towns of Esopus, Plattekill, Hurley, Marbletown, Olive, Rosendale, Saugerties, Ulster and Woodstock, that the same be cancelled.

Supervisor L. L. Rowe offered a resolution that the chairman appoint a committee to investigate the request of the county superintendent of highways for more office room that is necessary growing out of extra work due to flood conditions, and report. The following were appointed: Supervisors Ellyou, Stanbrough, Shaw, Freer.

Supervisors Avery and Dusinberrie offered a resolution that $9,055.19 be appropriated for highway purposes and a certificate of indebtedness issued by the county treasurer.

Appropriations for Highway Repairs

Supervisors Avery and Dusinberrie offered a resolution that whereas the county treasurer has on hand $22,644.90, being motor vehicle moneys received from the state, that such sum with $9,055.19 appropriated be alloted for extraordinary repairs for the following highways:

Town	From Motor Vehicle Money	From County Appropriation
Road 5, Gardiner	$1,500	$500
Road 9, Hurley	1,000	500
Road 11, Lloyd	1,500	500
Road 14, Marbletown	1,500
Road, 18-a	700	500
Marlborough	1,000	500
Road 18-a, New Paltz	1,500	500
Road 21, Olive	894.90	218.10
Road 25, Pierrefont

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Oct. 20. — Edward Bishop, chief engineer on the tug Hercules, is spending a few days at his home on Broadway.

The rummage sale under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which has been held this week in the A. and P. building in Kingston closed today with a nice sum for the society; many thanks for the assistants.

The three-act drama entitled "Deacon Dubbs" presented in Pythian Hall Friday evening by members of Hope Lodge, No. 65, Knights of Pythias, and Hope Temple, No. 80, Pythian Sisters, was a decided success and was considered by a great many as the best home talent play ever given in Port Ewen. Every participant acted their parts in a very able manner. Patrons were present from Ellenville, Saugerties, Connelly, Sleightsburgh, Ulster Park and New York city. The hall was filled. This company has already received three bookings from out of town. The members of both orders should be congratulated for presenting this play in such a pleasing manner to all. The pianist, Mrs. Harry Mable, put the pep in the occasion.

Harry C. Jump, grocer on Broadway, is having the interior of his home entirely changed, and when finished it will present a fine appearance. Lyman Ellsworth, carpenter and builder, is doing the work.

Mrs. Caldwell of New York city is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Lyon on Hamilton street.

Congressional Medal for Edison

West Orange, N. J., Oct. 20 (AP).—The Congressional Gold Medal will be presented to Thomas A. Edison at his laboratory tonight with ceremonies that will be broadcast over WEAF and a nationwide hook-up of radio stations.

President Coolidge will open the program at 9 p. m. (eastern standard time) with an address from the White House. At the conclusion of his address the broadcast will be shifted to the laboratory here.

The medal is to be presented by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, after which Mr. Edison will give a brief response.

An attempt is to be made to broadcast the rendition of Mr. Edison's first phonograph record, "Mary Had a Little Lamb" as played on the first machine he built. The machine is being returned to Mr. Edison by the British government. Presentation of the machine will be made by Ronald Campbell, charge d'affaires of the British embassy.

President John Grier Hibben of Princeton University, will also speak. The United States Navy Band, broadcasting from Washington, will complete the program.

The gold medal was authorized by congress in commemoration of Edison's achievements "in illuminating the path of progress through the development and application of inventions that have revolutionized civilization in the last century".

Sharpness of Shark's Teeth Accounted For

The proverbial sharpness of a serpent's tooth is declared to be wrong; it should have been a shark's tooth. Not only is the shark's asserted to be the sharpest tooth in the world, it appears also to be both the sharpest and the hardest of all animal substances.

One can even use the cutting surface of a shark's tooth, says O. W. Barrett of the Department of Agriculture of Porto Rico, to scratch glass as glaziers scratch it with a diamond.

Shark's teeth are now collected, says Mr. Barrett in describing in the Scientific Monthly of New York city, the growing commercial importance of the shark-fishing industry, and are used for watch fobs and other jewelry, for which purpose their extreme hardness is declared to make them especially suitable.

This hardness is due, the Porto Rican expert reports, to the fact that shark teeth are unique in the world in being composed of almost pure enamel, without the softer inner portions, which make human teeth, for example, so subject to decay.

In many ancient rocks of the earth geologists find millions of scattered teeth from ancient representatives of the shark family.

Even millions of years ago sharks evidently had such hard and indestructible teeth that even when all other bones and body partly decayed the teeth lasted and were preserved in the rocks.

Evil Reputation of Sargasso Sea Myth

The Sargasso sea is a region of the Atlantic ocean lying off the American coast about the latitude of Florida. It is composed of floating masses of brown seaweed, characterized by numerous small berry-like bladders. This dense gulf weed (Sargassum bacciferum) is the home of many small marine animals, crabs, prawns, etc. It is supposed that the weed grows on the American coast, is torn away by the waves and washed by the currents round the North Atlantic ocean into the comparatively still waters where it floats in accumulated masses. The older masses of weed slowly lose their power to float and then sink and perish. Columbus was becalmed in the Sargasso sea, and this made his men despair of ever reaching land. For a long time this sea had an unenviable reputation, as it was thought that the ship which was forced into it was doomed. Recent scientific expeditions have demonstrated that ships need have little fear of the masses of weed.

Vindication

A dignified-looking man stopped at a news-stand and purchased two very conservative newspapers and an extremely liberal literary monthly.

He paid for them, but after a moment's hesitation asked in addition for a certain monthly bearing a decidedly zippy title.

He must have sensed something of the inconsistency of his purchase, and felt that some kind of explanation was due, even to so unliterary a fellow as the particular news dealer in question:

"Er—I hope," he said, as he laid down the necessary sum for the magazine, "that you don't think I read this paper. I am just a contributor."—Kansas City Times.

A Classic

The following is told by an Americanization teacher whose class of elderly ladies meets two afternoons a week. The teacher, after a number of lessons on the correct form for letters, asked her adult pupils to write an original letter. This was one of those written:

"N. Y. C., April 23, 1928.

"Standderte Gas Co.

"deer Sire

"I ristved a letter I shell pay my last month bill. I hope you are mistakin please find out.

"Very truly yours,

"Ch. K."

Registration for three days was 12,145. Registration for the first three days last year was 10,407; in 1926 it was 7,704 and in 1924, a presidential year, it was 7,519.

Lindbergh to Hunt Bears in Mexico

Mexico City, Oct. 20 (AP).—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh will come south of the Rio Grande next week to hunt bears in the border state of Coahuila.

The trip has been planned as a complete rest for the airman and Colonel Alexander J. McNab, military attache at the United States embassy, who organized the party, hopes that Lindbergh will be able to stay four or five weeks. If he does the party will go also to the Sierra Madre mountains in the state of Chihuahua to search for cliff dwellings.

Colonel Lindbergh is expected to arrive Wednesday at La Babia, ranch of Hal Mangum, an American, where Ambassador Morrow recently was a guest. It is thought that he will travel by airplane as far as the border and make the rest of the trip by automobile to La Babia, which is 100 miles south of the boundary.

The party will rough it, camping in the open. There are many stories about cliff dwellings in the Sierra Madre mountains and it is one of Colonel McNab's greatest desires to find them. He hopes to persuade Colonel Lindbergh to go with him to a ranch belonging to Luis Leon, minister of agriculture, in the Chihuahua mountains, which will become the headquarters in the quest for ancient habitations.

Another member of the party will be Judge Leon Armisen, president of the Municipal Council of Pinar Del Rio, Cuba, who has been Colonel McNab's guest in Mexico City.

Land of Fine Flowers

Brazil has given to the world many of the most beautiful flowering plants; its famous orchids adorn greenhouses all over the world. What is said to be the greatest water lily in the world, the "Victoria Regia," is to be seen in a pond of the Rio Botanical gardens.

First Choice of the Nation for 1928

Sweeping month after month to even more spectacular heights of popularity . . . making and breaking new records of success with impressive regularity throughout the year—

—the Bigger and Better Chevrolet has been the greatest sensation of America's greatest industry!

The world's lowest priced car with Body by Fisher, it reveals beauty, smartness and luxury typical of the highest priced automobiles. Its lines are long, low and graceful and to the softness of deep spring-cushioned seats is added the comfort of 107" wheelbase on long, semi-elliptic springs set parallel to the frame.

Powered by a valve-in-head motor incorporating alloy invar strut pistons, mushroom type tappets and a highly efficient carburetion system, today's Chevrolet is so powerful, so smooth, so thrilling in its acceleration that every hour at the wheel is a source of pleasure and delight.

And as a result of thoroughly proved construction, modern design, quality materials and precision workmanship, the Bigger and Better Chevrolet has proved itself to be a car of amazing dependability and economy under every condition of usage. See this remarkable automobile today and learn why it has become first choice of the nation for 1928.

Among the questions to be answered Sunday evening are the following—1. They say man is incurably religious. Does this mean that he is instinctively religious? 2. When and why was Sunday adopted as the day of worship? 3. Why does the Lutheran Church use the cross? 4. Why should the church object to Sunday movies? 5. Does not the Bible approve dancing? 6. Ought the church to enter politics. 7. Is is possible to be a Christian in business today? 8. Is there not an inconsistency in the statement of the Bible that the world was created in six days and the findings of science that reveal that it took millions of years to create it? Other questions will be answered. Members and friends are invited to present questions. The Senior Luther League will hold its regular monthly Fellowship Hour Sunday at 5:30 p. m. The speaker will be George Hutt of the high school faculty. The Intermediate League will meet at 6:30 p. m. The leader will be Kenneth Dittus. The topic will be, What's True Reverence? The District Luther League rally will be held at this church on Friday evening at 7:30 p. m. Text, Ephesians 5, 16: "Redeeming the time, because the days are evil." Many church-going people place the blame for wickedness upon unbelievers and gross sinners, forgetting that they themselves are contributing largely toward the world's wickedness by their lack of brotherly and neighborly love, as I. John 4, 20 proves: "If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar; for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?" Everybody welcome. 7 p. m., senior Luther League devotional service. Tuesday 3:30 p. m., Confirmation lessons. Tuesday 7 p. m., junior Luther League. Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., sewing circle. FIRST REFORMED CHURCH MEN'S CLUB OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of the Men's Club of the First Reformed Church held in the chapel of the church Friday evening, the following officers were elected: President, I. Stuart Williams; vice-president, Lucius H. Doty; secretary, Howard St. John, and treasurer, M. Westbrook Snyder. The speaker of the evening was Principal B. C. Van Ingen of the Kingston High School, who delivered a very interesting address on his recent trip to Alaska.

Little Brown Church of Song Fame Becomes Iowa Marriage Center

The rustic church (left) at Nashua, Iowa, which inspired Dr. W. S. Pitts to write "The Little Brown Church in the Vale" has become a favorite place for marriages. The pastor is Rev. J. L. McCorison, jr. (right).

Nashua, Iowa, Oct. 20 (AP).—"The Little Brown Church in the Vale," made famous by a song from the pen of a traveler who admired it 50 years ago, has added to its distinction as a matrimonial shrine.

At the same hand-hewn altar where Congregational pioneers from New England first worshipped in Iowa's frontier days, 143 couples took vows of marriage in one month of this year—a new record for an Iowa church.

Sturdy sons of the wilderness hauled hardwood over 60 miles of corduroy roads to build this parish house which by a whim of circumstances has become a mecca for wedding parties and tourists.

On the frame walls of this pilgrimage, still lighted by the original kerosene bracket lamps, hangs a yellow manuscript which unveils the secret of the church's fame. It is a tattered copy of the song, "The Little Brown Church in the Vale," as composed by the author, Dr. W. S. Pitts.

Half a century ago Dr. Pitts wrote the song to the little church he admired. The meeting house retained its fame long after the song became a cherished memory.

In 1926 four hundred and twenty-nine couples flocked to the church for wedlock. On one day this summer the youthful pastor, the Rev. J. L. McCorison, jr., united 16 couples.

But the toll of wedding bells in the secluded shrine tells only half the story. Because of marriage fees collected there, the church has been able to cancel a 62-year-old debt contracted when ox teams brought timbers to build it. In one year $2,301 was paid in wedding fees, $1,152 in souvenirs and a total of $7,331 was collected from all sources.

Thousands of curious visitors annually peer into the door of the church, always open, to view the rough-hewn pews, the protruding rafters and the aged organ.

One year 40,000 persons came to see the spot that inspired the "Little Brown Church in the Vale."

Bell Ringers

What is said to be the oldest bell-ringing society in existence, the Ancient Society of College Youths, was founded in 1637 and has members throughout the world. Twelve members of this society were recently granted permission to ring on the 12 bells of St. Paul's cathedral (London), a peal of "Stedman Cinques"—a method of ringing composed by Fabian Stedman of Cambridge, England, about 1640.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

STREET SHADES ADD RICHNESS TO EVESING GOWNS.

New York.—There is a richness in the dark colored evening gown which compensates the loss of the more usual party colors. Besides which they are infinitely more practical, long longer lived.

Chanel has been largely responsible for the vogue of the so-called street shades for evening. Others of the grande couture have followed her lead. The wardrobe of a well dressed woman shows with warm reds, rather than flamboyant ones, intense blues rather than pale ones and other shades in spirit not of course forgetting black which remains the choice of the sophisticated, especially in tulle and in chenille dotted effects, to say nothing of velvet. The black velvet gown however has become such a general afternoon favorite that its glory for evening may be somewhat dimmed.

A Dinner Gown of Wine Red Georgette. The Diagonal Tucks Continue Around the Back in Spiral Fashion Ending in a Rippling Train Similar to the Front Drapery. Velvet and Satin Flowers Are of the Same Color Tone. (Copyright, 1928, by Fairchild.)

Georgette has won a place for itself at the smartest dinner parties. It is preferred by many to chiffon, for with the added length and width of the modern dinner gown, one feels at times that chiffon, while charming, lacks somewhat in character. Tailored treatments occur again and again for evening, diagonal lines being praised largely because they are helpful in accenting the dipping line. Skirts have fallen so low, that they barely escape dragging the dust at one side and at the other grudingly covering the knee.

ELEANOR GUNN On Fashions

Showing the Latest Development in Furs

THE BLACK SHEEP BECOMES PROMINENT IN FASHION'S FAVOR

New York—From the vantage ground of Paris it seemed, last winter, as though every woman with a pretense to style had gone into a uniform which consisted of a black, straightline coat heavily furred with natural lynx or badger.

Visiting Americans were impressed, however, by the number of grey squirrel coats seen in smart places but those who know their Paris know that, deprived of the privilege of mink, the chic Parisienne invariably has a penchant for grey squirrel.

This winter finds America in the creamy-furred-black-coated category, but women who are not forced to make a coat do for more than one season are evidencing an interest in black furs for trimming purposes with a strong predilection for lamb.

Being a black sheep, these days, makes one peculiarly interesting to the smart world. Colored coats, and they are legion, are smartest when trimmed in black, especially since they frequently are worn over black frocks, and with black hats. Light furs, such as badger and lynx, are far more youthful and much more flattering, they are still an excellent choice. Nutria and beaver have new leases on life, thanks to the return to favor of the jacket. Mink, like ermine and broadtail, is listed as an aristocrat, and is never declasse. Fitch and fisher are both again in vogue for trimmings, the feeling for contrasting trimmings being high.

Pony, leopard and smooth surfaced pelts, appropriate for sports and juvenile models, are less inclined to depend on flattering contrasts than in well tailored lines.

"GOOD" BOOTLEGGERS.

The Florida hurricane, in the midst of its tragedy and privation, was responsible for revelations which will be regarded by the cynical as distinctly amusing. If Coleridge's "Ancient Mariner" had been in the Everglades section he would not have complained of "water, water everywhere and not a drop to drink," for, according to the Everglades News, desirable "drink" was scarcely less plentiful than the detested water. In that region public sentiment had previously condoned the illicit liquor business "because a good many of the church members were patrons of the bootleggers," although these "would resent it as an insult if they were charged with lack of respect for the laws of the land." For this and other reasons bootleggers were expected to be intelligent and quiet in their methods and usually they were.

But after the storm broke and wet and cold people on every hand wanted something to warm their insides, a reckless class of bootleggers became entirely too bold, "overdoing it," and this, according to the frank Everglades News offended the "psalm-singing, shine-drinking Christians." The sympathizing News divides bootleggers into two classes, the good and the bad, and rebukes the latter for their scandalous publicity in a time of stress, demanding reform in the direction of greater decency. Did not the saloon keepers of old have to have character certificates and watch their step, and now that anybody can sell liquor should there not be judicious regulations? So the Everglades News, heartily backed by all drinking church members, is determined to "see to it that liquor selling under the 18th amendment and the Volstead act is in the hands of men of as good judgment as in the old days of the licensed saloon." And still there are those who profess to believe that prohibition is enforced.

JURYWOMEN.

The average woman juror is more intelligent, more alert and attends more strictly to business than the average male juror because she is better educated and more interested—according to Elsie McCormick, writing in the New York World. She is more interested because the experience is new, and better educated because she has been sent to school or college long after her brothers have been compelled to go to work. Later she has plenty of time for jury duty while the men of her circle have none and do their utmost to get excused. So it follows that clubwomen, presidents of literary societies and wives of bankers sit in the jury box beside male "bums"—those "professional jurors" who are always ready to serve, depend largely on what they are paid, and are more interested therein than in the evidence or an intelligent verdict.

Such is the view of the writer named, after a year's observation in courts. "Men who have time to serve on the jury," she says, "or who lack the bit of influence necessary to make good an excuse are seldom the finest flowers of our civilization. Far more women of the abler type are likely to be gifted with leisure." As for the old notion that women jurors would be swayed by their emotions; that has been shot full of holes, for "ladies are usually about as sentimental as a plate of bacon and eggs." It is interesting to find this woman observer predicting that the present "superiority" of her sex in the jury work will not be permanent; clubwomen will tire of their new toy and hand it over to a "professional" class of women talesmen matching in low intelligence and irresponsibility "professional" male jurors.

AIR INVESTMENT.

Dr. Hugo Eckener and his associates want to interest American capital in building more Zeppelins. Their plans, it is said, call for five such ships for a transatlantic air service to carry passengers and mail between the United States and Europe. Four ships would be expected to maintain a weekly service each way, with one kept for replacement duty in case any of the other four were laid up for repairs. In view of the proved merits of such craft, the plan can hardly be called impractical. Transatlantic air service on definite schedule like that of ocean liners cannot be expected for some time yet, if ever, but a fair average might be maintained.

There will probably be no difficulty in raising the money. American investors are already pouring funds liberally into domestic aviation, and will doubtless be ready to risk a few millions after the spectacular advertising afforded by this maiden voyage. Dirigibles are obviously in demand. They cannot carry many passengers, but rich travelers, of whom there are plenty, will pay high fares. Investors in this or any other form of air development, however, should be warned that they may need patience. They must not expect returns too soon.

A Greek gentleman who keeps a restaurant in Chicago is responsible for the assertion that brunettes "almost invariably have magnificent appetites" and that blondes eat comparatively little. Not unexpected, therefore, is his further significant statement that "when a young man escorts a young woman in here the chances are five to one that she is a blonde."

WHAT WORK CAN DO.

One of the few good things that resulted from the war is what is called occupational therapy.

Men who had held positions of responsibility before the war, found on their return that they just couldn't hold down the old job.

They felt that it was just a little too much for them, and that they would be likely to break down if they continued at it.

And so the government arranged to teach them other work that would more nearly fit in with their physical and mental capacity.

From 30 to 50 per cent of patients discharged from sanitariums for tuberculosis with the disease in an "arrested" state, suffer a relapse in a comparatively short time, according to Dr. B. E. Hedding. In order to give these patients a chance to get strong, and to be able to adjust themselves to the world again, Wisconsin established a camp for men where sanitorium treatment was combined with the definite object of preparing the patients for productive work.

Under carefully guarded conditions these men cut wood, build roads, plow fields, plant and harvest crops, clear stumps from land, until they are able to do a full day's work under ordinary industrial conditions.

After nine years of this experience it was found that two-thirds of all patients were sent out with their working ability restored.

Now there are two points about this.

By working daily in the outdoors under sanitarium conditions as to food, air, rest, aside from the exercise, the patient became physically much stronger and able to do a "man's" work.

And also the very knowledge that he was becoming stronger physically, his old self, and that he was able to take his place in the world again, gave him that confidence in himself that is an essential part of a man's makeup. If he is to be able to take his place among his fellow men.

This same outdoor physical work is now a big factor in getting overworked business men, with mental ailments, back to normal.

And it has cured a good percentage of inmates of hospitals for the insane.

"Thumb-Nail" Currency Coming

Government Printing Millions of Bills of Smaller Size in Belief That They Will Have Longer Life—Autos Responsible for Changing Size of Currency.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Announcement that the new "thumb-nail" size currency of the United States Treasury will make its initial debut within the next three months was made this week by Assistant-Secretary of the Treasury Henry Henick Bond.

Why the familiar sized bills are being reduced approximately one-fourth in size is an interesting story that probably not one in a thousand motorists know—but it is due primarily to the motorist that the old sized currency is to be taken out of circulation and the smaller bill installed.

Following the advent of the automobile it was found that bills of small denomination came back to the redemption bureau of the Treasury Department more often for reissuance. A study, made by the government revealed that the grime and oil from the filling station attendant's hands does more than any other thing to soil notes, causing them to deteriorate faster than formerly.

The frequency with which a dollar bill comes back to a filling station has just been determined as the result of an interesting experiment made by the American Motorists' Association.

It was found that approximately every seventh time that a bill changes hands it finds its way back to the oil station, where it becomes more begrimed by oil and smears. The experiment was made by circulating 50 one dollar bills, with a request attached that each spender endorse on the slip what he spent it for, and that the person holding the bill after the tenth endorsement should return it to the American Motorists' Association's headquarters at Washington. The 50 bills were circulated in ten cities with the result that out of 36 bills returned, containing 371 endorsements, 53 of the endorsements indicated that the bill had been spent by a motorist for gas or oil.

Fold Bills More Closely.

The smaller sized bill, which will be 6 5-16 by 2 11-16, will not be folded so closely and this will increase the life of each bill appreciably, the department believes. A specified study was made also by government experts to make the bills as oil-proof as possible with the end in view of furthering their life against the necessary hard use put to them by motorists purchasing gas and oil.

The gigantic money presses of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing are now turning out the new issue at the rate of millions of dollars per day in denominations of $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and $10,000. Approximately 53 per cent of the entire issue of one billion of bills will be of $1 denomination.

Another interesting innovation in the new style of money will be that for the first time in the history of the United States the new bills will bear the signature of the Secretary of Treasury. Signatures of the Register of the Treasury and the Treasurer of the United States have always heretofore appeared on the currency.

POLISH BRIDES WILL DROP MARITAL "OBEY"

Warsaw, Oct. 20 (AP).—Pipe Pius XI has approved changes in the Polish marriage ceremony eliminating "obey" from the pledge taken by the bride and making the pledges of both bride and groom identical.

The new regulations will go into effect on January 1, 1929. Since 1614 the Roman Catholic Church of Poland has observed the rite approved for that country by Pope Paul V. Immediately after the reestablishment of Poland as an independent country in 1920 the Polish bishops found it necessary to introduce certain changes into the rite.

They addressed a proposal to the pope outlining changes, consisting mostly of the substitution of Polish phrases for Latin in the prayers. All were approved by the pope.

Under the old regulations the bridegroom promised "love, faithfulness and marital fidelity," whereas the bride had to promise "love, faithfulness and obedience."

FLIGHT OF ARMENIANS GETS OFFICIAL ACTION

Beirut, Syria, Oct. 20 (AP)—A relief commission, appointed by the international labor bureau at Geneva, in conjunction with the French High Commission for Syria, has launched the first systematic measures toward the solution of the Armenian refugee problem in the mandated territory.

There are about 50,000 Armenians in Syria, a portion of this number having been exiled there by the Turks during the war and the remainder having fled from Turkey when the Kemalists came into power.

Nine-tenths of them continue to inhabit hovels on the outskirts of Syrian cities, and not more than a half have been able to establish themselves on a self-supporting basis. The present plans are to settle 25,000 of them as farmers and providing steady work for 12,000 others in the towns.

QUAKERS URGE WORLD TO THROW AWAY ARMS

London, Oct. 20 (AP).—British Quakers have issued a widespread appeal for world disarmament as a logical sequel to the signing of the Kellogg pact outlawing war.

"We believe this agreement may be a great landmark in human history," says the appeal issued by the Society of Friends in London. "This can only be as peace is organized instead of war, and peace cannot be organized without trust.

"Signature alone is not enough; we need a corresponding change in the minds of men. How quickly disarmament is accomplished depends on public opinion and on the public conscience, on their strength to resist vested interests and even ancient habits of thought. As a community our appeal is to all men to work for the spread of the spirit which takes away the occasion of all war.

"Will ministers try to influence their congregations, editors their readers, voters their representatives in Parliament, each man his neighbor?"

The Quaker appeal has been dispatched to every clergyman and minister in Great Britain, members of both houses of parliament, school teachers, educational bodies, political parties, and League of Nations Union branches, besides thousands of men and women voters in the country.

BRONCHITIS

Coughing is unnatural. It is evidence of an irritated condition of the respiratory tract. Like most troubles of its general nature, bronchitis seizes upon those who are deficient in natural resisting powers, and especially affects the bronchial tubes.

In this trouble there is a cause to be corrected—the body resistance must be built up—at the same time the weakened bronchial tubes must be made strong. There is no health method as certain to do this as Chiropractic—and in a shorter time, too.

Read the experiences of Miss Hill and Mrs. Ross and you will know that Chiropractic Gets Results!

BRONCHITIS IS REMOVED.

PHONE 778 FOR APPOINTMENT.

Our success is due to our policy of never accepting cases that we cannot benefit.

In addition to the training received at the world's most prominent Chiropractic universities, supplemented by thirteen years' actual practice and observation, we have originated and are using our own system of painless treatment which is a distinct advance over methods commonly in use.

NOTICE.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that the undersigned, Board of Education of Rosendale Union Free School District No. 1 of the Town of Rosendale, in the County of Ulster, in the State of New York, will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at the front door of the public school building in said district on the 1st day of November, 1928, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Twenty bonds of Rosendale Union Free School District No. 1 of the Town of Rosendale aforesaid, dated November 1, 1928, of the par value of One Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($1500.00) each, one each of said bonds being due and payable on the 1st day of November in each of the years 1929 to 1948, both inclusive, and making a total for said twenty bonds of Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000.00).

Said bonds bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable annually on the 1st day of November of each year.

Said bonds are issued pursuant to the provisions of Section 480 of the Education Law and Section 9 of the General Municipal Law and pursuant to the action of a majority of the voters of said school district at a special meeting held on the 10th day of September, 1928, and in accordance with a resolution of the Board of Education of said district duly adopted on the 15th day of October, 1928.

Said bonds will not be sold for less than par.

The school district will not be liable to the purchaser or any other person for an allowance for attorney's fees in relation to said bonds or to investigating the validity thereof.

The terms of sale may be obtained by applying therefor to the undersigned or to any member of the said Board of Education.

Written proposals may be submitted in accordance with the terms of sale.

All bids must be in lump sums only and not a percentage basis.

The bonds will first be offered separately and then in a block.

In the event the aggregate of the bids for the separate bonds exceed the highest block bid, all the bonds will be struck down to the highest bidders for the individual bond, but in the event the highest bid for the bonds in block equals or exceeds the aggregate of the amount of bids for the single bonds, the bonds will be struck off to the block bidder.

No bids shall be binding upon the district until the bonds have been offered both ways and actually struck off to a purchaser.

Dated at Rosendale, N. Y., October 15, 1928.

The reserves have ...e into action on the stump, and ...busy printing presses of rival ...y headquarters have about com... their heavy grist of pamphlets ...hand bills.

...f course some surprises may re... ...n for the final two weeks, for ...a campaign as this would not be ...ected to end in an anti-climax. It ...has been hinted on high authori... that the last days before election ...be the most exciting. But cer...ly the bulk of evidence promised ...the opening statements of the liti... ...ts now is before the court.

Issues Related to Pocketbook.

The past week has seen the princi... ...s in the contest giving increased ...ention to issues related to the pub... and private pocketbook.

Mr. Hoover journeyed into indus... ...l Massachusetts for a series of ...eches on the tariff, foreign trade ...d shipping, and after his return to ...shington he talked to a delegation ...exporters about cooperation be... ...en government and business. Gov... ...r Smith, on tour through the bor... states and the midwest, chose the ...ff and governmental economy as ...e burden of his speeches.

Meanwhile Chairman Work of the ...publican campaign was declaring ...n prosperity was the one big issue. ...Secretary Mellon, aroused at the ...mocratic nominee's gibes at the ...olidge fiscal policies, defended ...m at length. Although many of ...e lesser lights of the campaign have ...n talking in this vein from the be... ...ning, the country has heard more ...ut economics and economy from ...standing figures of the campaign ...this one week than in all of the ...ceding weeks of the campaign put ...ether.

"Whispering" Against Hoover.

A charge of "whispering" again ...been heard in the political news ...this time the charge is made by ...e Republicans. In a statement ...ing that Mr. Hoover ever had ...ght British citizenship or ever had ...ed or attempted to vote in Eng... ...d, Chairman Work declared the ...publican nominee had been the ...get for "one of the most unjust ...dispering campaigns in the history ...presidential contests."

The party chairman said Hoover's ...me had been listed on an English ...ters' roll without his knowledge ...rs ago, when he was lessor of a ...use near London. The State De...rtment also announced there never ...d been a question of Hoover's ...erican citizenship.

Talk in Rival's Territory.

Both Smith and Hoover continue to ...e surrounded by applauding thou...nds during their travels, although ...ch has passed during the present ...ek through territory which figures ...ominently in the election hopes of ...e rival. Hoover made the principal ...each of his eastern trip to a mam...oth, cheering crowd at Boston, ...nted on by the Smith managers to ...ove a Smith stronghold on election ...y. Smith was greeted with noisy ...claim in Illinois, listed by the Re...blicans as safe for Hoover.

If any further evidence were ...eded to demonstrate the unusual ...pular interest in this campaign, ...e present week has supplied it.

Discouragement for Each Party.

Neither has the week's news bud...t lacked the 1928 touch of dis...uragement for each party in terri...y where it might normally expect ...be secure.

Senator Simmons of North Caro...a, long a powerful Democratic ...der, dispelled any lingering doubt ...to the extent of his antagonism to ...e party's nominee by giving public ...pport to the campaign of the anti-...mith Democrats. Senator Blaine of ...isconsin, a LaFollette Republican, ...d all he could to cement a union ...the Wisconsin "progressives" with ...e Democrats by coming out flatly ...r Smith.

The alignment of outstanding ...rty leaders now is about as com...lete as it shows prospects of ever ...ing before election day, although ...dence continues in some notable ...arters, such as the California ...nch of William G. McAdoo, and ...e Illinois farm of Frank O. Low...n.

"Y" Auxiliary Has Busy Meeting

The Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. held their October meeting at the Y's Men's Camp at Glenerie on Friday, leaving the Y. M. C. A. at 11 a. m., in a chartered bus.

Soon after arrival at the camp, luncheon was partaken of, the tables being spread in the Charles Ramsey Lodge, where hot coffee was served.

Some time was given everyone to explore the grounds and enjoy visiting with one another, after which the business meeting was called on the large piazza of the lodge. Mrs. Howard Smith had charge of the devotions, Mrs. W. B. Terwilliger presiding at the piano. Mrs. Terwilliger was later elected pianist in place of Mrs. L. S. Coe who had resigned from the auxiliary on account of her removal from Kingston.

The president, Mrs. W. A. Longyear, announced that the restaurant on the ground floor of the Y. M. C. A. had been taken over by Mr. Blanshan and meals were being regularly served daily.

Mrs. George DuBois, chairman of the Senior Boys' Work, reported four Hi-Y suppers, starting September 26, with 61 boys at the first supper. On October 11, the high school faculty were entertained by the Hi-Y, 86 being present at the supper.

Mrs. William Campbell reported that her committee had mended sheets and pillow cases, made dish towels and cretonne draperies for nine dormitory windows, also recovered a comforter, a bee having been held at the home of Mrs. Longyear for tying the same. The auxiliary voted to pay for the material purchased for the comforter.

The auxiliary is to hold a pancake supper at the Y. M. C. A. on Friday, November 2, serving from 5:30 to 8 p. m.

A new member was voted in, Mrs. Marie Plusch of 152 O'Neil street, from Elmendorf Street Presbyterian Church.

The bus started on the homeward trip shortly after 4 p. m. The weather was ideal and all agreed that the day had been a most enjoyable one.

AGED JAPANESE WILL BE REMEMBERED BY EMPEROR

Tokyo, Oct. 20 (AP).—Nearly half a million subjects of the Emperor of Japan, who will have reached the ripe age of 50 years on November 10, the day of the enthronement, have been listed by the imperial household to be honored by gifts of lacquer wine cups.

A survey of all the police registers of the empire has revealed 482,048 men and women 50 or over, including 281 centenarians. In Japan proper are listed 397,534 persons of 80 or more and 261 centenarians. The larger totals include the venerables of Korea, Formosa and other possessions and dependencies of Japan.

In Japan, as in all other oriental lands, extraordinary honor is accorded fulness of years, and each of these aged subjects will receive a red-lacquered cup for drinking sake, the national beverage, marked with the imperial chrysanthemum crest, to commemorate the enthronement of the new sovereign, Hirohito.

LEPERS IN NICARAGUA RECEIVE LITTLE CARE

Managua, Nicaragua, Oct. 20 (AP).—Managua, the capital of Nicaragua, has a leper colony located only a mile from the center of the town. Here the ten inmates—three women and seven men—live in three small wooden shacks, shut off from any view of the outside world by a dense undergrowth. Although the colony is only a few hundred yards from the main highway leading into the hills, its seclusion is complete on account of the heavy jungle.

The lepers receive no government aid, but are supported entirely by charity through the efforts of Don Juan de Dois Matus, an assistant in the department of communications, who several years ago became interested in these people and persuaded those in the vicinity of Managua to live together on the small tract of land, obtained from the city.

KILLARNEY IS FAVORED SPOT OF IRISH GNOMES

Killarney, Ireland, Oct. 20 (AP).—Persons who think that elves, gnomes and fairies do not exist, should come to the lakes of Killarney. Here the inhabitants of the unknown world caper at will.

They are known as Leprechauns and they are very busy. Their work lasts three and a half hours, from midnight until half-past three in the morning, and only on nights when the moon is full.

They are four inches high and dressed in dark green swallow-tailed coats, knee breeches, patent leather Irish shoes, an Irish hat, a pipe in their mouths and usually a shillalah in one hand. They are kind hearted and obliging. Many housewives report having awakened in the morning to find the milking done, the butter made and the bread baked.

Earth's Elevations

The highest point in the world is in Asia, Mount Everest, being 29,141 feet; the highest point in South America is Mount Aconcagua, 23,080 feet; in North America it is Mount McKinley, 20,300 feet; in Africa, Kilimanjaro (Kibo peak); Europe, Mont El Brus, 18,468; while the highest point in Australia, Mount Kosciusko, has an elevation of only 7,328 feet.

Variations Stamp New Autumn Coats

Flares, Tunics, Furred Effects and Fabrics Play Important Part.

Elaboration upon the silhouette of grace and facile movement, introduced early in the year, results in a more complex mode for fall, says a fashion writer in the Cincinnati Enquirer. While the fundamentals remain only slightly changed, the new coats may be easily recognized by diversity of treatment and the variations produced by means of flares, tunics, furred effects and fabric working itself.

When straight lines exist in coats they are far from scant lines, and the uneven hemline contributes to the mood of gracefulness. Without extremes or exaggeration this exerts a feminine charm to the garment and concentrates upon softening the general outlines.

Fur borders have been revived in interest, but with the novelty of broken lines in a decorative manner. The tunic is an important factor and fur is applied to its edge as shown by some interesting models of American design, not encircling the coat, but appearing at the back, front or the side.

Black caracul employed for a full collar, also finished the back-dipping panels of a black coat which is an ensemble of black and beige, the frock combining these two colors.

The ensemble of autumn fashioning is not always of the spring and summer genre, but very often is the working out of a color theme rather than a matter of fabric importance, all of which is but an indication of the now accepted harmony idea in dress.

To return to the tunic with its rich fur border in the new way, another striking example of its expression is shown in a coat of plum-colored velvet. The tunic gently falls just below the hem in a single point and draped cuffs combine with its shirred fullness to add to the elaboration of the garment.

Beauty of line is manifest in an afternoon coat of black velvet, the lines of the shawl collar enhancing those of the cape back done in the Vionnet manner. This fur is of black fox flecked with white.

Full Circular Flared Skirts.

Of all the new autumn colors and shades of colors, those created in the browns are perhaps the most appealing. There is a charming russet hue, a rich mahogany and a shimmery copper shade.

Brown came to prominence in the spring in the class of accessories, and gradually built up its season's prestige until it reached the evening mode. Smart fashionables have adopted brown tulle and brown chiffon frocks for wear at resort dancing places, and at luncheon time brown afternoon dresses are seen with large hair hats in self color.

Frocks from sheer fabrics, chiffon or tulle, are designed with the extremely full circular flared skirt, and some approach the bouffant style. The closely-draped girdle aims to accent the flaring skirt and gives the long slender line of the figure which reaches below the hips. A frock of this type for dancing is in the new russet shade.

Afternoon dresses of chiffon show interesting shadows of color in the varied brown tones of skirt fullness. Combining the berths and the cape is an example of the formal trend.

A peculiarly difficult tone of brown to describe a chanel hue, a brown containing both gold and pink lights. This is seen in some avenue shops in most attractive chiffon evening dresses.

Evening Lines Droop.

Uneven hemlines achieving the dripping, drooping elegance which now predominates in the evening mode, extend their scope from a mere impression of irregularity to an exaggerated hemline occasionally suggesting a train. The new straight line all around, save for side drapes, may presage an inevitable change but to the even hem.

Apart from this most important phase of the evening outline, interest is divided between the waist and neck. The molded hip is important and quite necessary for the smart effect of slender dresses. Necklines are varied, some being almost girlishly round or oval, others square or V-shaped, the back of the decolletage reaching extremes.

Repeating the skirt movement is the insertion of capes and scarf ends for the fluttering silhouette. The vogue of the little jacket as part of an evening ensemble calls the attention of the designer. The jacket has evolved into a very casual little affair, cut much on the lines of the familiar cardigan, only made of lace or chiffon with paillettes.

Black chiffon forming a plain skirt in a gown lengthened by petaled side panels, is joined to a low girdled bodice of this fabric in an all-over design of black paillettes, with an

Color contrasts in toneful combination assert a new theme. Three tones of green and three of blue are ingeniously combined in an evening gown, exceedingly simple as to bodice with square neckline, suede belt, and angular treatment of its flaring skirt.

Twists of the Scarf.

Limitless possibilities as to design and fabric seem to hover around the realm of the scarf, and many new ways have been evolved of wearing it. Always a fall and winter accessory, it will be especially fashionable this year. The triangle will be replaced by the square to a great extent, and the short and the long oblong.

And the new scarf is in softer colors, toned down from riotous summer shades, several tints of a single color combined to carry out a design and to blend with a costume or a coat. The new scarf is far more simple in design, the oblong widened into a border of color for contrast only, or like simplicity.

Two new ways to wear the square, or the triangle when it is used, are noted: In one the square is folded diagonally with the points placed over the shoulder, the two ends twisted and knotted directly at the front, pinned underneath to hold it in position.

When the triangle or folded square is tied closely about the throat and drawn through a ring at the side, leaving one end to cascade like a jabot, the style is particularly adaptable to wear beneath a coat.

A new Vionnet scarf has one end drawn tightly about the throat with one point over the shoulder, pinned securely, and the other hangs free.

Accessories for Fall.

Bags favor the envelope of antelope and calf and evening types are seen not only in the envelope but in pouches agleam with jeweled and sequined patterns on silk brocades.

Flat pouch-shaped bags of very subtly blended tweed calf in beige tones piped with brown are shown with fall traveling costumes. These are not only a neat style, but have a degree of smartness rather uncommon.

Feutre renard, or fox felt, is very much the mode of the moment. New hat models employ both sides of this felt with smart effect.

Flowers are not passe. Felt, suede and leather blossoms are in realistic as well as modernistic versions.

The kerchief method of decorating frocks is far from becoming a lost art. It develops new fancies and is used as a finish for neck, waist, sleeves and even the hat.

In accessories, as in fabrics and styles, points, angles and curves form a part of the latest and most accepted lines.

Paris Fur Coats Are Cut to Hang Straight

Many fur coats are of a rather simple type; they are still cut to hang straight despite a perceptible flared movement, but some of the more elaborate models have a wide-flared movement on the sides of the skirt or at the front opening which is sometimes underlined by a bell effect on the forearm. These coats, as well as many evening models, oftentimes present a hemline that droops slightly at the back.

Hottest Part of Day

Is the hottest part of the day the time when the sun is vertically overhead? The strongest rays of the sun occur when the sun is vertically overhead or most nearly so, which is at noon, but the hottest part of the day occurs about 2 p. m. because of the accumulation of heat due to solar radiation throughout the morning hours.—New York Telegram.

WHY THE FIRE WENT OUT

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

MOTHER asked Mary to fix the fire,
Mary waited and asked her sire,
Father old William to fix the thing,
William told Bobbie some wood to bring.
Bobbie told sister to get it quick,
Sister told Fido to fetch a stick,
Fido barked and he ran about—
And that's how it was that the fire went out.

That's how it is there are many things to do
Still unfinished when day is through,
That's how it is that the set of sun
Finds so much of our work undone.
Whether the task is great or small,
It never really gets done at all,
It's shoved and shifted and passed about—
And that's how it is that the fires go out.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

QUALITY OF CLEARNESS

WE READ a great deal in the newspapers about Lloyd George, and as we read, especially if we are given to reflection, we marvel at the clarity of his thought, always so lucidly expressed that the average schoolboy can follow and understand it.

All the arguments of this wonderful man of Great Britain are plain, convincing, forceful and simple, illuminated from beginning to end with clear thinking.

Even to those who do not at all times accord with his beliefs, his words of wisdom find lodgment in their hearts and give them much to think about long after his utterances have been published.

If you will carefully consider clearness of thought, you will discover that it has much to do with success in all walks of life, and particularly where thoughts are expressed in little words whose meanings are as open as daylight.

To make yourself understood, in any worthy work or cause, is to make yourself useful.

And this usefulness, which may be confined to yourself alone, will become apparent to others who will bid for your ability, glad to give you a place from which you may continue to rise to larger spheres and greater heights.

It is the clearness of the diamond that gives its value.

It is the clearness of truth that imparts to it its potential power.

If you would seek value and power, make yourself clear in thought and word and act.

However humble your place may be, if you make yourself understood, show each day that you are sincere in your effort to advance, that the interests of those who give you employment are your interests, you will encounter no serious difficulties.

To become a leader among men, you must, like Lloyd George and others, be frank with yourself, for frankness is really the basis of true greatness, which in turn is clearness unblurred.

Do this and there never will be any doubt about your success, or the loyalty of your friends, when your acts for some selfish or envious reason may be questioned by your enemies.

A Simple Frock For a Little Girl

6212. Dotted circles in pink or blue on a white ground of cotton print or tub silk, or a neat design in chaille or embroidered pongee, would be a pleasing development of this dainty little frock. The collars and cuffs could be of white lawn, or broadcloth or of a color to match the figure in the material. Pleated fullness is shown in the front of the dress, and the sleeves, cut in one with the body portions are finished with cuffs.

The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 years. A 4 year size will require 1½ yard of 36 inch material, together with ¼ yard of contrasting material for facing on cuffs and collar.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Fashion Book Notice.

Send 15c in coin or stamps to The Freeman for our up-to-date Fall and Winter 1928 Book of Fashions showing color plates, and containing 500 designs of ladies', misses' and children's patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, also some points for the needle (illustrating 20 of the various simple stitches), all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

CUBA'S CAPITOL WILL HAVE DIAMOND SETTING

Havana, Oct. 20 (AP).—A huge diamond to be placed in the dome floor of the new national capitol at Havana will be the standard of measurements for Cuba.

The gem is said to weigh 50 carats and is the gift of a millionaire Cuban senator whose purpose was to provide a fitting "top" for the new building. Plans are afoot to set the stone with elaborate ceremony attended by President Machado.

OFFICE CAT

By Jamieson

A Kingston flapper calls her new costume a "combine" because when she drives out in the country it not only shocks the wheat but also the entire crew.

"Are those potatoes new?"
"Madame, they haven't even opened their eyes yet."

He: I tell you darling, my love for you is driving me mad.
She: Well, keep quiet about it, it's having the same effect on dad.

George: "Brown, I've decided to raise your salary $3 a week."
Clerk: "Will you give me that in writing, sir?"
Grocer: "Isn't my word good enough for you?"
"Oh, yes, sir. But I want evidence to show my wife. She's expecting me to get a $5 raise."

An enemy may be a former friend you helped out of a financial tight.

Trite But Truthful.

If winter comes—as soon as it must—
We're shouting once or twice,
We'll all begin to spend our dust
For coal instead of ice.
Youngstown, Ohio, Telegram.

In winter we spend dust for dust
And some return we get;
In summer things are much less just,
Ice is, you know, all wet.

Teacher (sternly): "This essay on 'Our Dog' is word for word the same as your brother's."
Small Boy: "Yes, sir; it's the same dog."

Up yonder we'll have harps. And if your prefer a saxophone, you know what you can do.

The army has a fighting plane equipment with six machine guns and 250 bombs. It will probably be christened Spirit of Chicago.

Shades of "Tex."

In days of old when knights were bold,
They had some goodly fights,
But they were dumb, they never sold,
Their moving picture rights.

Modesty is the quality that enables a girl to sit still two minutes without thinking her knees are showing and trying to pull down her skirt.

Some men can conceive but cannot execute—some can execute but are not good at conceiving plans of procedure and policies.

A fellow said he set a trap for his wife when he tried to catch a mouse in the pantry.

"James, my son, did you take that letter to the post office and pay the postage on it?"
"Father, I seed a lot of men putting letters in a little place; and so when no one was looking, I slipped yours in for nothing."

CHINA-GERMANY AIRLINE IS UNDER NEGOTIATION.

Nankink, Oct. 20 (AP).—An air route from Nankink to Berlin, via Irkutsk, Siberia, is the subject of negotiations between Nationalist officials and a representative of the German Luft Hansa Air Corporation.

The Luft Hansa experts say the regular journey from Berlin to Nankink can be done in six days and that an airplane of the same type of the Bremen, which was flown from Ireland to Labrador, is at present in Siberia waiting for permission from the Nationalist government to cross the Chinese frontier.

U. S. WILL GET SOME OF NAPOLEON'S LOOT

Paris, Oct. 20 (AP).—Napoleonic loot, old paintings taken from captured towns in Belgium and Holland are being sent to the United States for sale.

These pictures, 48 of them, were part of the collection of General Haquin, once aide-de-camp of the emperor, and commander of one of his armies. He was "fired" because he refused to execute all the terroristic orders his superiors thought necessary to cow the populations of conquered towns.

For a century the pictures remained in the Haquin family but were sold last year by the general's grand niece, Madame Giovanoni, and have just been bought by the Masters' Art Gallery of New York. They have been valued at $1,000,000 by a group of experts, including Dr. W. N. Rakint of Petrograd, Despar-met Fitz-Gerald, the Spanish art authority, and Henri Gervex, one of the French government's appraisers.

U. S. TRAILS ENGLAND IN SHIPBUILDING RACE.

London, Oct. 20 (AP).—American competition in shipbuilding, the greatest menace to British supremacy between 1916 and 1920, has now ceased to exist, in the opinion of British investors. With a general depression on which makes it a real trial of competitive strength, England is building twenty times as many ocean-going vessels as the United States and 50 per cent more than all Continental countries put together.

Within the last few weeks British shipbuilders have secured contracts from the United States, Norway, Sweden, France, Spain, Canada, Argentine and Chili. One firm on the Tyne has booked the biggest order on record, that of ten ships for Canada.

GAMBLING WAR DISTURBS MONACANS AND RIVERIA

Cannes, France, Oct. 20 (AP).—The battle between Riveria casino interests and the world-famed Monte Carlo casino has now turned into a picture contest, with the general public enjoying itself and the police having difficulty keeping the signboards free of the lurid and bitter posters which appear mysteriously during the night.

Both sides have also resorted to subsidizing papers and weekly magazines to back them. Monte Carlo is working to obtain an extension of its agreement with the French government whereby roulette will not be permitted in France. The present agreement ends in 1931.

BUDDHISTS BALKS MOVE TO ABOLISH TEMPLES

Peking, Oct. 20 (AP).—Buddhists have determined not to abandon their ancient temples without a struggle.

Reports that the Kuomintang officials of the Peking district had decided to confiscate all Buddhist temples caused the Peking Buddhist Association to address an appeal to the Nanking government.

The point is made that freedom of religion is one of the items of the nationalist party, set forth by the executive council. The Buddhists called attention to various welfare enterprises supported by them.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

New York—The greatest books known to the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman are on Broadway and the greatest harvests in the most crowded centers. "Next to books give me a good solid old time American farmer," he elaborated in an address.

Tarrytown, N. Y.—A traffic policeman ordered a car to pull over and demanded the motorist's name.

"John D. Rockefeller, Jr.," came the answer.

"Well," proceeded the policeman, "I'm President Coolidge. Show your license."

The motorist obeyed and received an apology. Mr. Rockefeller then demanded that he be given a summons if he had violated the law. He did not get one.

New York—A gift by Otto H. Kahn will enable the restoration of columns on the north side of the Parthenon in Athens, wrecked by an explosion in 1687. The Elihu Root says: "How Old Time will rub his eyes to see the pins set up for him to bowl at, let us hope, two or three thousand years more."

New York—Dr. William S. Franklin, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has an idea that hurricanes can be shooed away by shooting them with big guns. He suggested that 20 or 30 steel cones, 15 or 20 feet in diameter at the base and 40 or 50 at the top and 100 feet high be distributed over southern Florida and Bermuda. A ton or more gunpowder exploded in each cone would start a rising column of warm, moist air which might hamper a hurricane.

Minersville, Pa.—Chivalrous are members of District 9, United Mine Workers. In convention assembled they resolved that men, young and old, should wear hats, because the fad of going bareheaded had thrown thousands out of work. Then a delegate asked that action be taken about short skirts, which have caused textile mills to suffer. Nothing was done about it.

New York—The Rev. Dr. George U. Wenner, 84, Lutheran, is celebrating his 60th year in the pulpit in this city.

Santa Fe, N. M.—Osborne Wood, who has been using a pick and shovel in coal and ore mines for several years since ups and downs in stocks, is on the way to New York for a vacation. But he's going to keep away from a well-known district in lower Manhattan. "I don't even know where Wall Street is any more," he says.

Philadelphia—Careless smoking is expensive. An essay by Ralph McCollough, 16, of Portland, Ore., which has won a prize at the convention of the International Association of Fire Chiefs, says that such caused a fire loss of $37,500,000 in this country in 1926.

Washington — Prospects are bright for plenty of eats turkey day. The Department of Agriculture forecasts that the principal ingredient of Thanksgiving dinner will be four per cent more plentiful than last year.

Tired Business Man Should Halt

When Business Gets the Best of Him, He Should Seek Advice of Physician in Order to Avoid Otherwise Inevitable Crash.

The tired business man was the subject of a health talk broadcast by Dr. James S. Walton of Amsterdam from Station WGY on Friday night. This was the second of three talks on fatigue and its significance given under the auspices of the State Department of Health.

"Because the humorist and the cartoonist have made the tired business man the subject of so many of their jokes, the victims of this real ailment seldom get the sympathy and help which they must have in order successfully to combat the condition.

"Of course everyone feels more or less tired after a day of close application and confinement in the office shop or store. But by the time the evening meal is eaten and the body is relaxed, some form of recreation or a change of occupation for the mind or muscles would give one a feeling of well being. If such is not the case and the homecomer habitually fusses, fumes and frets as he lives over the worries of the day, making himself and everyone around him unhappy, it is time for him to make a radical change in his mode of life, for he is on the verge of what is commonly called 'a nervous breakdown.'

"The man who works largely or entirely with his hands and is able to drop his work when the whistle blows may be inclined to laugh at the idea that mental effort can produce excessive fatigue but the fact is that either mental or physical work produces in the body a definite poison. Mental fatigue reacts on the muscular structure of the body and produces a type of physical fatigue which the manual worker can never experience unless through financial or other troubles he falls heir to the same kind of worries that beset the business man. Under such conditions the artist and the artisan, the poet and the painter, the merchant and the mechanic as well as the housewife and the housemaid can equally well experience the symptoms of nervous exhaustion.

"Once a person has reached the stage of complete breakdown an absolute rest in a sanitorium or other place 'far from the maddening crowd' is the only way to build up the overworked nervous system. Let the tired business man therefore beware. When he finds his business getting the best of him he should call a halt and seek the advice of a physician in order to avoid the otherwise inevitable crash.

NEW CHURCH RISING IN GETHSEMANE

Jerusalem, Oct. 20 (AP).—In the Garden of Gethsemane at the foot of the Mount of Olives, a Catholic church is rising dedicated to the Heart of Jesus.

The edifice is being built over the very grotto into which the Lord sent his disciples while he himself knelt down on a stone a short way off to say his last prayer before they came to lead him away.

The cavern has now been made into the crypt, and over against the stone the altar rises. Only a few years ago the stone was freed of a lot of broken mosaic—now covered over by slabs of Bethlehem stone—among which it had been buried.

As early as the fourth century, in the days of King Theodosius, a basilica stood at the spot until, three centuries later, it was destroyed by the Persians on their invasion of the Holy Land. Later it was built by the crusaders, but the latter did not find the exact site and erected an altar in front of a rock which now juts into the right sidewall of the church. Formerly the Patriarchs of Jerusalem were wont each year to leave their residences on Palm Sunday and proceed to the cavern, there to remain the whole of Passion Week. Not until Easter Sunday did they return to celebrate divine service.

The new church building was commenced immediately after the war. In 1919 the Cardinal Archbishop of Paris laid the cornerstone. A committee headed by the Bishop of Toulouse began to collect funds for the building operations from among the Catholics throughout the world. The costs have been estimated at $450,000. The work is now well advanced and in another three years is to be completed.

In reconstruction the style of the old basilica was retained. In the interior parts of the old mosaic flooring have in several places been built in, while the new mosaic work is an exact reproduction of the old both as to pattern and coloring. Like the original, it depicts the instruments of torture, the cross, the thorns and the rope. And the same pattern is repeated in the window decoration and that of the vaulted ceiling. The 12 dome arches were contributed by 12 different countries—Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Mexico, Italy, France, Spain, the United States, Germany, Canada and Belgium.

MEXICAN OIL OUTPUT SEEKS LOWER LEVELS

Mexico City, Oct. 20 (AP).—Mexico's oil production in 1928 will total only about fifty million barrels, according to newspaper estimates based upon information obtained in the department of industry, commerce and labor.

Production until August 1 totaled 31,910,316 barrels and it is expected that not more than twenty million barrels will have been produced during the last five months of the year.

The peak in Mexico's oil production was reached in 1921, when 193,398,000 barrels were produced. Since then the production has been slumping steadily.

Exportation of oil fell off considerably in August of this year when only 2,212,407 barrels were sent out of the country.

Yellow Jackets Meet Tough Team At Fair Grounds

The Yellow Jackets are set for their tilt with the Baronets of Johnstown, N. Y., at the Kingston Fair Grounds, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Baronets have overcome some of the best elevens in the northern section of the state, which promises that the Yellow Jackets will have to do some "tall" hustling to stay with the upstate team. On the whole all indications point to a real thrilling game.

All Kingston men will be used by the Yellow Jackets. Every man on the roster will have a chance against the Baronets, it is said, so local fans will have an opportunity to see their idols in battle.

The upstate team, which trimmed the Hearcats of Troy previous to the appearance of the Trojans in Kingston, recently defeated the crack National Guard eleven of Utica 12-2. This was a "whale" of a game according to letters received by the Yellow Jacket managers. In the letter the Kingston men were warned that the Baronets are one of the hardest fighting aggregations on upstate gridirons.

The Yellow Jackets are set to take on any eleven regardless of its previous accomplishments. Everybody who attends Sunday's game will see a real thrilling encounter it is promised.

Congregationals Elected Officers

At a meeting held last Sunday morning the Congregational basketball quintet elected its manager and captain for the coming season. "Skipper" Rockefeller, who successfully piloted the team last season, was re-elected captain for the coming season. "Chuck" Cassell will again book games for the team outside the Sunday School League.

The Progressive Sunday School Class of Congregational Church to which the basketball players belong also elected officers. Clifford Harris for the third time was chosen president; Edward Carle, vice president; John Carle, treasurer; Charles Cassell, secretary. Since the basketball team is very much interested in the Sunday school it is expected that a large class will be held each Sunday.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

Brooklyn—Big Boy Peterson, Minneapolis, defeated Paulino Uzcudun, Spain, foul (2). Marco Polo, Pittsburgh, stopped Harry Fay, Louisville (6). Jack Shaw, Union City, N. J., stopped Francisco Cruz, Portugal (2). Joe Jeanette, Little Rock, Ark., outpointed George Heron, New York (4).

Detroit—Joe Glick, New York, outpointed Hubert Gillis, Belgium (10).

Buffalo—Jack McVey, New York, outpointed George Nichols, Buffalo (10).

Dayton, O. — Happy Atherton, Indianapolis, outpointed Jimmy Powers, Youngstown, O. (10). Johnny Curtain, Dayton, outpointed Jimmie Dalton, Indianapolis, (8).

Hollywood, Cal. — Farmer Joe Cooper, Terre Haute, Ind., stopped Jackie Carr, Hollywood (2).

Erie, Pa.—Gorilla Jones, Akron, O., outpointed Bucky Lawless, Auburn, N. Y. (10). Jimmy Reed, Erie, outpointed Young Davis, Chicago (6).

San Francisco—Sergeant Sammy Baker, New York, outpointed Joe Simonich, Butte (10).

Eastern Grid Games Today

New York, Oct. 20 (AP).—Gridiron fields on eastern football fields were magnets for thousands of spectators today.

Army's racers had thirteen straight Harvard defeats to avenge at the Harvard stadium and were highly favored to accomplish the task. Relations between the soldiers and Harvard were broken off after 1916 with Harvard on the winning end of every game it played with the Cadets.

Yale boasting 27 victories in 28 games with Brown, had the dubious satisfaction of entering the 33rd fray an overwhelming favorite.

Penn State's Nittany Lions beaten 20 times in 29 meetings with Pennsylvania, needed to show great improvement over their losing effort against Bucknell, to stop the powerful Penn scoring machine.

Kerr's Washington and Jefferson Presidents can point with pride to their record against Carnegie Tech. The latter has won once and tied twice in thirteen battles with W. and J.

Fordham had an outside chance to tie up the series with Holy Cross at Worcester. The New Yorkers need to win today to make the series eight victories apiece.

Princeton and New York University had ancient foes in Lehigh and Rutgers respectively.

The east's other major battles, with the result more or less in doubt, found Bucknell pitted against La-Fayette; Columbia against Dartmouth; Duke against Navy; Washington and Lee against West Virginia, and Gettysburg against Villanova.

Syracuse was at Lincoln to play Nebraska. Colgate went to East Lansing to play Michigan State.

The "Little Three" were to tackle New York state opposition in their own bailiwicks, Amherst meeting Hamilton; Wesleyan battling Rochester, and Williams taking on Rensselaer. Tufts, unbeaten last year and victorious in its first two starts this season, was to meet Bowdoin. Georgetown hoped to add to its tremendous scoring total at the expense of West Virginia Wesleyan while Pitt seeks to get back on its feet after the West Virginia debacle by swamping Allegheny.

Pan-Ams to Clash With Beacon Team

The Beacon Holy Name team, that downed the Blue Sox this season 5-1, will clash with the Pan-Ams Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the Saugerties road diamond. A large attendance is expected as the Beaconites will be followed by many "rooters" while McNally's locals always draw well.

King, of the Holy Name, will oppose Johnny Carpenter on the mound. Carpenter has hurled several successful games for the oilmen this year and expects to add the Beacon nine to his string of accomplishments.

Pete Jordan will do the umpiring. The tilt, which will be the last of the season for the Pan-Ams, will be called promptly at 3 o'clock.

K. H. S. Playing Poughkeepsie

The Kingston High School Varsity football squad was scheduled to meet the Poughkeepsie High eleven this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Kingston Fair Grounds. An important DUSO League game, both teams were ready to do their utmost to capture the contest.

Pastor Trains With Team; Is Cheer Leader at Games

One of the "boys" out hitting the tackling dummy each day at Birmingham-Southern College is the Rev. John Milner, 51-year-old Birmingham preacher, an ardent team supporter who follows the gridiron sport to keep in condition for his church work.

Details Complete For Armory Bouts

Workers were busy this morning removing elaborate decorations used at the Junior League Ball Friday, to make ready for the boxing program at the armory Monday night, October 22. Matty Bence, Charles Dixon and Ray Woerner have erected the big ring in the middle of the drill shed and every detail is now complete for the fistic entertainment.

All who desire reserved seats are advised to make reservations now. Many of the choice seats have been ordered already, but there are still some good points of vantage to be bought up. The bleachers will be packed early on Monday evening, it is anticipated, for the stellar card is attracting all fight fans. The feature of the card is the eight round fracas between Willie Herman and Johnny Cicconnelli, two battlers who have pleased crowds in New York city armories. The meeting of these two men will be the first of an elimination series to name a champion of the National Guard junior welterweight class.

MOSCOW BOASTS FEW PRIVATE MOTOR CARS

Moscow, Oct. 20 (AP)—The crowded capital of the reds has fewer automobiles than any large city in Europe, yet it is one of the most terrifying places in the world for pedestrians, of whom there are 2,225,000 in Moscow.

There is little street traffic, but apparently no laws regulate what little there is. The trams rumble at moderate speed. So, perforce, do the dilapidated and far from immaculate little hacks, hauled up and down the cobble-stone hills by scrawny nags. But the automobiles go like demons, their speed limited only by the poor condition of most of the pavements.

The dashing men who steer the Moscow busses are perhaps the only drivers in Europe who breeze through the streets at a faster clip than the Paris taxicab chauffeurs, whose zest and nonchalance is celebrated. Brown and unwashed, the Moscow busses tear up and down the cobble-stones, bouncing and honking at full tilt, with pedestrians scattering in front of them and taking to the street again in their wake.

Busses do not come along very frequently, but when they do they come quickly and they get you somewhere in a hurry. The fare varies with the distance, five cents for every mile and a half or so. Trams are slightly cheaper and considerably slower.

DAVIS CUP MATCHES WILL NOT BE HELD IN FRANCE

Paris, Oct. 20 (AP).—Competition for the Davis Cup, emblematic of international team tennis supremacy, will be outside of France next year.

The French tennis federation, in reaching this decision last night, attributed it to court decisions that international tournaments are shows, and not sport, and therefore subject to a heavy entertainment tax.

For the same reason the federation forbade all tournaments in France among clubs belonging to the federation.

The country where the 1929 Davis Cup finals will be played was not selected but it was understood today that Belgium was favored. France holds the cup.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Static and Al Smith shared the honors Friday evening in an endurance test in which static finally won by a narrow margin, but only after the governor stopped talking.

Reception this morning was good.

With Oldsmobile as host, the General Motors Family Party offers another hour of delightful music from 9:30 to 10:30, Eastern Standard Time, Monday evening, October 22. The program consists of a pleasing variety of popular-classical selections, played by the concert orchestra directed by Adrien Schubert. Among the old favorites which the orchestra will play are: "The Blue Danube Waltz", by Strauss; two numbers from "A Day in Venice", by Nevin; selections from "Mlle. Modiste', by Herbert; and "Military Polonaise", by Chopin. Lewis James, the popular tenor, whose rich voice has become a favorite over the radio, will be the soloist of the evening.

"The House of The Seven Gables" supplies the story dramatized in the Soconyland Sketch, Tuesday night, entitled "Maule's Curse", an incident in Hawthorne's famous tale. The play pictures an old New England village at the close of the 17th Century, when witches and curses still cast a mystic glow, and a ghostly atmosphere tempers the theme of the drama: Colonel Pyncheon deprived Maule of the plot of ground on which he had lived for forty years. Hereon was built the House of the Seven Gables where the curse of Maule was fulfilled with the formal opening of the mansion. Pyncheon had paid. Saturated with stories of witchcraft at Salem, Hawthorne had removed to Lenox, Mass., in the summer of 1850. There he wrote The House of The Seven Gables, the year after the Scarlet Letter had made him world-famous. In Salem is still shown the House of Seven Gables said to have inspired the story.

CHICAGO'S "CHINATOWN" HAS SCHOOL FOR YOUNG

Chicago, Oct. 20 (AP).—"On Leong Chinese school" has been opened in Chicago's "Chinatown" to teach young Chinese of the land their fathers left for the United States.

The school is the first in Chicago and one of the few in the United States. It supplements the work of the American schools, the young Chinese attending Oriental classes after the public schools' work-day is over. It is sponsored by the On Leong Chinese Merchants' Association.

Chicago's "Chinatown" lies along Twenty-second street.

SUBMERGED CITY WAS ONCE ISLAND CAPITAL

Nevis, West Indies, Oct. 20 (AP).—North of the town of Charleston camera men are making pictures of the submerged city of Jamestown, once the capital of Nevis.

The remains of the city may be seen near shore, beneath the level of the shore. On April 30, 1680, Jamestown was visited by an earthquake, and the town slipped into the sea, carrying with it all its riches and a population estimated at 14,000. The submerged city is located on the West or leeward shore of the island.

Auto Races at Driving Park

A big program of automobile races will be held this afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, at the Kingston Driving Park half-mile track and many famous speed kings have arrived for the affair.

Ralph De Palma of Los Angeles and Ira Vail of New York will meet in a match race which is part of the big speed carnival listed under A. A. A. sanction.

Among those entered are Charles Ganung, Katonah, N. Y., Leo Sykes, Frank Farmer, Bill Strickler and Al Aspen, Philadelphia, Charles Cyr, Bill Hoffman, Newark, N. J., and numerous others.

Nine events comprise the speed bill. A crowd of ten thousand fans are looked for. The races are sponsored by the Kingston Chamber of Commerce.

Leading entries:

Ralph De Palma, Los Angeles, Cal., Miller car.

Ira Vail, Little Neck, N. Y., Miller.

Al Aspen, Philadelphia, Pa., F. & J.

Charles Ganung, Katonah, N. Y., Duesberg.

Bill Strickler, Philadelphia, Pa., Peugeot.

Frank Farmer, Philadelphia, Pa., Miller.

Bill Hoffman, Newark, N. J., Frontenac.

Charles Cyr, Boston, Mass., Frontenac.

And six other star dirt track pilots.

Register before 10 o'clock tonight or lose your vote. Don't be a slacker.

Diet Problem of Athletes

"I SOLVED the diet problem of athletes by changing the order of courses at meals," says Dr. Clarence Spears, professor of football and doctor of medicine at the University of Minnesota, accused of having the salad served late in the meal. I have it served first. "When my players sit down at the table they find a salad of green stuff awaiting them. There is also plenty of celery.

Coach Clarence Spears.

"They are hungry. The meal is scrupulous, with precious arrangements, is slow in starting. The players, waiting for the service to begin, get busy with the salad. By the time the soup is served, the salads and celery have been consumed. We see to it that the meal does not start before they have been eaten.

"After the salad, celery and soup are finished, the player has had much of his appetite satisfied. He will not overeat; and, due to the late start, which prompted him to devour his salad and celery, he will have partaken of the kind of food we want him to eat.

"I decided on this plan after watching athletes in training for a number of years. Many of them ignored their salads when served with meat orders, preferring two and three orders of meat to a dish of salad; but when the player is hungry, and there is nothing to eat but salad and celery, he will gladly consume what is before him and what we want him to eat."

Which may, or may not, be one reason for the power of Minnesota's football eleven, comments H. G. Salsinger in the Detroit News.

Captaincy at Wisconsin Held by Rube E. Wagner

The football captaincy at Wisconsin this fall rests upon the shoulders of a young man who has overcome countless obstacles in an effort to acquire a college education. Success has rewarded him in all of his undertakings as a Badger student, until now, as a senior, Rube E. Wagner of St. Paul finds himself a leader in the student life of Wisconsin.

For two years Wagner has played in the line on Cardinal elevens. Last fall he was rated as one of the best tackles in the Middle West. Rube has confined his activities entirely to athletics. In the spring of the year he competes on the track team, specializing in the shotput and discus throw.

Wagner is preparing to become an athletic coach after graduation. Next year he will complete his work in the four-year course in physical education. He is an excellent student, too, his achievements at Wisconsin being particularly outstanding because he has been entirely self-supporting since his enrollment as a freshman.

He is employed at a Madison hotel as a waiter. It is work, together with other miscellaneous jobs, provides for his living. Summer vacations are not for pleasure as far as Wagner is concerned, for he is busy then earning money to care for his school expenses.

Capt. Chuck Howe, a veteran of Princeton university's 1927 football team, who will probably be shifted from his usual position as center to guard.

No Change of Navy Grid Trip to Pacific Coast

Because of the stiff program already mapped out for Naval academy football team it would not be possible to stage a Christmas-day gridiron game with the University of Southern California at Los Angeles, says Commander Jonas H. Ingram, director of athletics at the Naval academy.

Representatives of the California institution have conferred with navy authorities looking to a regular contract which would bring the two schools together annually for an intersectional clash, but Naval academy athletic officials feel that such a contest would work a hardship on the Midshipmen, who already face several strong teams in the fall.

In addition, the trip West would take the sailors away from their work and cause an extended training period which naval authorities have said could not be warranted this year, at least.

Army Ignores Navy

Chances for a resumption of the Army-Navy football relations in 1929 were eliminated when the military academy announced its 1929 grid slate without mention of the Navy.

The most important addition to the schedule is the University of Illinois. A two-year agreement has been entered whereby the Illini go to West Point next year and the cadets go to Illinois the year afterward.

According to the latest estimates, the North star is 300 light years from the earth; in other words, if at any moment the North star ceased to give out light, the fact would be unknown on the earth for 300 years.

CARBON MONOXIDE IS DEADLY ENEMY

More Than Thousand Human Lives Claimed by Deadly Gas.

"One of man's most deadly enemies, carbon monoxide, which has been called 'the universal poison gas,' will form the subject of a new educational motion picture film to be produced within the near future by the United States bureau of mines, Department of Commerce," according to a statement issued by the Chicago Motor club, which bases its assertion on a bulletin received from the Department of Commerce at Washington.

Thousand Lives Lost.

"It is said that more than a thousand human lives were claimed by this deadly gas during the past year, and that 700 deaths were due to drivers of automobiles being overcome while their engines were idling in closed garages. In photographing this film, not only will the peril of carbon monoxide contained in automobile engine exhausts be emphasized, but attention will also be given to the hazards due to the presence of carbon monoxide under certain conditions in factories, in homes, and in fact, anywhere that there may be possibility of exposure to the products of incomplete combustion of fuels."

What Film Will Show.

The Chicago Motor club bulletin points out that, "The film will show how, by proper ventilation, accumulations of carbon monoxide may be prevented. There will also be pictured methods of first aid treatment and resuscitation which may be administered to a victim of the poison gas if found before death has occurred. The film will be given wide circulation by the bureau of mines in the hope that, through the universal language of visualization, knowledge of this deadly enemy of mankind may become widespread, thus serving to diminish the annual heavy death toll from this cause."

Stop Annoying Hissing by Knotting the Hose

Occasionally suction windshield wipers are afflicted with leakage, with the result that the driver will hear an annoying hissing sound when he accelerates the engine. When this happens he's puzzled because he knows that if he disconnects the rubber tubing the hissing will be worse.

Here is where a temporary remedy is in order, no matter how makeshift it may be. With a piece of string tie a loop in the rubber hosing. This will serve as a valve to stop suction at this point.

Another plan is to disconnect the rubber tubing and plug the end of the copper tubing with a piece of chewing gum.

It is also permissible to pinch the end of the copper tubing with the pliers. This may shorten the tube a little, since the pinched part may have to be cut off when the wiper is repaired, but a slightly longer rubber connection will cover this.

AUTOMOBILE ITEMS

• • •

There isn't a single dimmer among the bright lights of automobile production.

• • •

Unlike umpires, judges reverse their decisions. A motorist in Ireland was recently fined $1,070 for violation of a traffic rule. Later the judge reduced the fine to $11.25.

• • •

Motor vehicles have become the main factor in transportation in western Australia, where new sections have been developed so rapidly as to outdistance the railroads.

• • •

"I don't recall any such accident," said the hit-and-run driver, as usual. "That's fair enough," replied the judge, easily. "You'll be in jail so long I shall have no recollection that you are there."

Watch Your Car Doors to Prevent Accidents

Several serious accidents have been reported during the first six months of the year involving cases where children have fallen out of machines due to extreme carelessness on the part of the motorist, according to a bulletin issued by S. Mayer, president of the automobile club of Illinois.

Never allow a child to sit next to the door of an automobile if it is possible, nor extend it any such privileges as closing or opening the doors for passengers. In this wise many doors, which would otherwise seem securely fastened have merely been closed without the double-snap lock taking hold. A three-year-old son of a party of tourists was recently hurled to the pavement from a car traveling at an approximate speed of 40 miles per hour. The child was severely injured and may possibly be crippled for life, due, no doubt, to some one's carelessness.

"At this youthful age, the child could not be expected to do the things that the grownup should of done," declared Mr. Mayer, and it is the duty of every motorist having children, or for that matter, anyone as a passenger to carefully guard against this form of accident.

Trouble Light Is Handy in Working Around Car

The best place for a trouble light is where it will shed its rays on the work as nearly as possible in line with the line of sight. When working around a car you constantly shift your point of view, so no matter where you fasten the light there are often shadows just where you want to see what you are doing. Fig. 3 shows how to fix up a trouble light that will always be where you want it. A cork takes the place of the regular reflector and lens, with a screw in the center of the cork to make contact with the center electrode of the battery. A Christmas tree lamp socket or a standard miniature lamp socket is connected to a length of electric light drop cord with one of the wires connected to the screw in the cork and the other to the case by jamming it under the lens retainer ring threads. The socket is attached to the brim of your hat by means of a wire bent as shown in the illustration.—Popular Science Monthly.

Design for a Trouble Light for Attachment to Your Hat Brim So That It Shines Always Directly on Work Anywhere About Your Car.

Ecuador Bars Cigarette Lighters on Motor Cars

Matches and motor cars may have nothing in common to the layman, but to one American automobile manufacturer they mean something in so far as motor-car shipments to Ecuador are concerned.

In this South American republic the government has just granted a Swedish match concern the sole right to sell matches in that country. Under this contract matches mean anything that produces fire, and therefore electric cigarette lighters come under the government ban.

Ecuadoran consuls all over the world have been instructed to refuse to certify invoices for automobiles on which cigarette lighters are standard equipment, while masters of ships calling at ports in this country must place all foreign matches under seal.

Clearly Seen Road

Never operate a car at such speed that it cannot be stopped within the portion of the road immediately ahead. A clearly seen course is limited by curves and roadside objects upon them; by the brows of hills which are being ascended; by other vehicles; by approaching headlights and the condition of the windshield; by the intensity and direction of projection of headlights and other factors.

Reception Sunday At Binnewater

One Thousand Acre Tract, Bought for Extensive Development by New Jersey Corporation, to Be Scene of General Get-together Party.

Sunday afternoon, weather permitting, there will be a large gathering of local professional and business people at the new development which is being made at Binnewater on the property recently acquired around the Binnewater Lakes by Gust Williams of the Hackensack and Teaneck Development Company of Hackensack, N. J. There will be a twenty piece band on the property to render a band concert commencing at 2 o'clock and many of the public officials and and business men of Kingston have been invited to attend the reception and become acquainted with the personnel of the corporation which plans a large development of the 1,000 acre tract which has recently been acquired.

The band concert will be held on the former John Cook residence property opposite the Binnewater station.

In order to meet the local people and become acquainted with local business men the members of the development corporation and a number of their friends will journey from New Jersey to Binnewater in three motor busses. Mr. Williams is president of the corporation which has acquired some 1,000 acroes around the three lakes and will shortly begin the erection of a bungalow colony, club house and 18 hole golf course. The corporation ultimately expects to have about 500 bungalows on the property which is one of the finest for the purpose in the vicinity and includes the three lakes.

Kingstonians To Attend.

Among the Kingston people who will be present are Mayor E. J. Dempsey, ex-Mayor Walter P. Crane, C. V. A. Decker, John Cook, George Hall, N. B. Gross, Morris Samter, H. J. Hoffman, Charles Merrill, A. A. Davis and other city officials and business men.

The acquiring of this large tract of land about the Binnewater lakes and its development will undoubtedly mean much to the business men of Kingston for the corporation expects within a very short time to have a number of bungalows erected and a club house ready for the guests. There will be considerable employment during the construction of an 18 hole golf course and in the erection of the bungalows.

Burnett Commends Enterprise.

The Chamber of Commerce was very pleased to receive the following letter in this morning's mail from W. L. Burnett of Newburgh: "The writer, knowing the interest that the Chamber of Commerce of Kingston had in the Binnewater section properties owned by the Coykendall Company and Binnewater Ice Company, all Kingston men, is glad to make a report to the Chamber of Commerce that he has met with the success of selling this section of approximately 1,000 acres. The property is to be developed into a summer colony including club houses and lake shores and it is expected that many families from Jersey sections and New York will spend their summers in this section.

"Of course Kingston is the attractive city of the Binnewater section. The purchaser of the property is Gust Williams, president of the Teaneck and Hackensack Development Companies. Reports have come to us from all parts of his section stating that he is a very successful developer and carries a business of high reputation.

"Mr. Williams will probably depend on a lot of the merchants of Kingston for his supplies and we see no reason why this is not one more step of progress for the City of Kingston.

"We are asking the Chamber of Commerce to welcome Mr. Williams by sending a committee to Binnewater on Sunday."

Legion Auxiliary Officers.

The American Legion Auxiliary of Kingston Post will be headed for the ensuing year by Mrs. Ralph Glendenning of Hurley, who was elected president Friday night at the annual meeting in the Memorial Building on West O'Reilly street. Mrs. Thomas Coughlin and Mrs. Edward Luedtke were elected vice presidents. Mrs. C. J. Heiselman was elected secretary and Mrs. Peter A. Carey treasurer. The executive committee for the year will be Miss Margaret McManus, Mrs. George DuBois and Mrs. A. Keefe.

Took Name From Patriot

The city of Ypsilanti, Mich., was named in honor of a noble Greek family who distinguished themselves in the Greek revolution of 1821. Alexander and Demetrius Ypsilanti were ardent patriots and Demetrius was a successful leader in the revolt against the Turks. Judge Woodward of Detroit selected the name for the settlement.

Age of the Rockies

The Rocky mountains are fairly new. Scientists know this because they are so steep. Old mountains are more worn down and have lower forms. The growth of mountains is slow. They are not pushed up suddenly in some grand cataclysm, but rise a few inches in 1,000 years.

Still Need $10,000 For Zion Church

Campaign to Complete Franklin Street Church Closes Monday Night—Citizens Are Asked to Contribute Generously.

Dr. Frank E. Seeley, general chairman of the campaign for $25,000 to complete the Zion Colored Church on Franklin street, presided at the meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Friday night. In opening he expressed his personal appreciation of the sacrifice of time that the men were making, and called attention to the fact that there were still a couple of thousand cards out for people to be seen. He referred to the splendid meeting of last Monday when many cards were taken and urged that the workers spend Saturday, Sunday and Monday in an earnest effort to see all the prospects. The total of the day approached the $15,000 mark, and Dr. Seeley said he believed the citizens of Kingston would give the amount necessary to complete this campaign successfully, if they were called upon and the deferred payment plan of paying every three months during a year and a half were urged. The men were very enthusiastic and assured him of their interest and support.

Charles Matthews and W. C. DeWitt of the citizens' committee, who are working daily for this cause, addressed the meeting and urged that "we stand by Dr. Seeley in this effort to provide Kingston's colored youth a suitable place in which to spend their leisure hours and to complete the unfinished structure, which at present is unsightly and discreditable to our city."

The total of the teams reported Friday night was $2,539. This was the largest total to date, and brought the entire subscriptions up to $14,354.50. William B. Martin, head of Division "B", again led his competitors with a total of $355, and John N. Cordts, captain of team No. 7, led the teams with $131. The Rev. A. S. Cole, captain of team No. 6, accounted for $54. Captain DeGarmo of team No. 13, reported $51, and Captain Halverson of No. 18, $50.

$10,000 Still Needed.

These figures show there is still about $10,000 to be raised and attention is again called to the great need from a civic, spiritual and social standpoint. There is a wonderful opportunity here for citizens to do a very definite work for Kingston and particulary a work for the colored people, that will be a lasting memorial for years to come. There is need at this time of several large gifts to carry through the campaign successfully, and the committee urges that those who are charitably inclined must seriously consider this as probably the greatest home mission effort ever presented to Kingston. A gift of $5,000 at this time would insure the successful outcome of the campaign and save for Kingston through costs many times the amount invested, as well as providing a definite work of a personal nature that would continue for all time.

The committee calls attention to the fact that the old Franklin Street Church, which was destroyed by fire in 1926, carried on a very active work for nearly eighty years, that it is the oldest religious organization for colored people in Ulster county, that many of its members have given faithful and devoted service in our best homes. That twenty-six young men went from this church into the World War, and that their present pastor, the Rev. E. O. Clarke, bears record of the fact that the church influence has steadily decreased the percentage of colored folks in trouble with the courts.

These colored citizens are a loyal people, they are in need and are bearing their share of the burden. The new building will not only provide ample space for many years in its auditorium, but in the basement will be a large hall for social work among the young people.

It is a community need, a great home mission opportunity, and a duty to the colored brethren. It must be completed.

SMITH LEAVES CHICAGO FOR INDIANAPOLIS

Chicago, Oct. 20 (AP).—Governor Smith left Chicago at 10 a. m. today for Albany, N. Y., by way of Indianapolis, where he will take part in a parade late this afternoon during an hour's visit. The nominee's special train was being operated over the Big Four.

Several hundred persons thronged the station to bid the Smith party good bye. Governor Smith, looking somewhat tired after yesterday's strenuous day, but in a jovial mood, nevertheless, appeared on the rear platform shortly before the train left, with Mrs. Smith and their two daughters, and waved a greeting to the crowd.

He grinned at 200 school children massed on a viaduct directly above his car and indulged in pantomime with them as they shouted at him.

FEW AMERICANS PREFER MEXICAN CITIZENSHIP

Mexico City, Oct. 20 (AP).—In the last 20 years 153 Americans have given up their United States citizenship to become naturalized Mexicans.

The Americans occupy sixth place in the list of foreigners who have taken out Mexican citizenship papers in the period mentioned. Chinese to the number of 1,147 became Mexicans, as did 628 Spaniards, 179 Syrians, 176 Germans and 150 Japanese.

A total of only 3,262 persons became naturalized Mexicans in this time. Blame for the reduced figure is placed at the doors of unstable internal conditions and what is termed an antiquated, over-severe naturalization law. The government now is at work on a new and more lenient law.

Junior League Ball a Success

Music, Decorations, Refreshments and Dancing Contests Pleased Large Crowd—Winners of Contests.

Could the old dull stuff [illegible] Friday night in full appreciation of the many months of work of the Junior League members and [illegible] have recognized it. It was not only very modern, but it was most remarkably attractive and [illegible] in appearance as to quite startle the beholder. Incidently [illegible] "Night Club" idea in the most attractive form with [illegible] d'Or Orchestra giving a delightful concert and then playing the [illegible] of jazz dance music. While there was a big crowd in attendance [illegible] differently were the floor arrangements from those of former occasions that there was ample room for dancing in comfort and with pleasure.

Guests were met in what seemed to be the foyer of the dance hall by the League members in fantastic but very becoming and picturesque costumes of bright red velvet, black patent leather and tiny silk bells and wonderful head-dresses and necklaces of many small mirrors. All of the boxes, with their gay yellow and red futuristic decorations, were full, and following the concert program of many old-time favorite selections the pretty, small tea tables with harmonizing decorations were filled with guests enjoying the sandwiches and coffee, ice cream and cake, while the very decorative lemonade booth was very popular.

Overlooking the dancers — the gowns of the women were never prettier nor more becoming and picturesque—the twinkling, winking eyes of the Jack O' Lantern-like faces formed by the round windows of the armory, covered and lighted, wore every sort of surprised, amused, pleased, saucy expression. Lest they gossip to seriously, they were separated by column-like stretches of black, shiny fabric, mounted with mirror-like decorations. Over the entrance to the dance hall there was clustered much more of this mirror-like adornment, which under the colored lights flashed and sparkled gaily.

Perhaps the piece de resistance of the decorative scheme was the setting of the orchestra at the far end of the hall. Metallic, columnar, reflecting lovely colors, with the black clad musicians at its base, the whole effect was very striking.

One of the main features of the evening was the dance contest feature. This was quite a new idea, too. The judges of these contest dances were Dr. Chandler, David Burgevin and Everett Fowler, and they awarded the silver loving cup presented by Senator Arthur H. Wicks for the prize waltz dancers to Miss Margaret Richards and C. Buddington Fromer. Charles A. Warren's silver cup for the Charleston contest went to Miss Miriam Osterhoudt and "Chick" Chandler. There were four winners of the elimination dancing, presented by S. Cohen's Sons and Rose and Gorman—Miss Muriel Gregory and Myron Oppenheimer and Miss Marie Flynn and Paul McDonald.

The Junior League is indeed to be congratulated upon its 1928 ball, and on the fine sum that must have been realized to carry on its most worthy child welfare work in the community.

Miners and Iron Workers Battle

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 20 (AP).—A fight between miners and iron workers employed at Number 11 colliery of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company at Plymouth, near here, sent two men to Mercy Hospital today, one with a bullet in his right leg and the other badly beaten up. State police and Luzerne county detectives quelled the disturbance, but not before at least a dozen other members of the clashing factions suffered injuries from flying fists and missiles.

AUTO UNOCCUPIED GOES FOR JOY RIDE

John Conlin of Wilbur parked his Essex sedan on the right side of Main street hill near Green street this morning at about 10:30 o'clock, but it didn't stay there very long. In some mysterious manner, according to Mr. Conlin, who had set his brakes, the Essex went for a joy ride unoccupied. Going in a straight line for a short distance it suddenly made a left hand turn across Main street, jumped the curb, went through the heavy rails of the fence along The Bryant property and then over the stone wall, head on to the edge of the tennis court, landing alongside the wall of the Tannery brook.

Mr. Conlin parked his car while visiting John Quigley, who was busy constructing a foundation for an apartment house fronting on Main street in the rear of the Quigley apartments.

KINGSTON MAN HURT IN AUTO COLLISION

Mrs. Mabel French of Athens and Adolph Huebner of Kingston were hurt when their cars met in head-on collision on the state highway just south of Athens Friday morning. Mrs. French suffered bruises about the body, arms and legs and Huebner's right arm was crushed. Undersheriff J. Henry Feiter reported that Huebner caused the accident when he tried to pass a [illegible] truck driven by LeRoy Van Alstyne of Hurley, crashing into Mrs. French who was headed south.

Coconut Economy

In the South seas-coconuts have many uses—the milk is drunk; the sap of the tree, boiled and fermented, makes palm wine; the fruit is eaten, leaves make roof thatch for huts, the splints make baskets, the coconut shells are useful dishes and the oil is used for rubbing the body.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Oct. 20 (AP).—Heavy selling of the motor shares unsettled today's stock market after an early outburst of strength had carried a score of issues to new high ground. Extreme gains of 1 to nearly 10 points in a long list of pool specialties were offset by a number of 1 to 5 points declines. Trading was again in large volume, with the ticker 20 minutes or more behind the market during the greater part of the session.

There was nothing in the overnight news to explain the selling of the motors although the strong resistance encountered on recent rallies probably discouraged the speculative following in those issues. General Motors was hammered 4 points below last night's final quotations and Nash, Chrysler and Hudson dropped 2 points or more.

Fluctuations in International Nickel became extremely erratic. Opening 4 points lower at 180, the stock then ran up to 187 and then fell back to the opening price in the last hour. Radio broke 5 points, Allied Chemical 4 and Greene Cananea Copper 2.

Most of the coppers continued to press forward in expectation of an early advance in red metal prices. American Smelting, Anaconda and Kennecott all sold at the year's best prices. National Tea soared 9 points to 309, Electric Auto Lite 6 to 117¼, A. M. Byers 5 to 145, Johns Manville 4¼ to 175¼ and American Express 4 to 268½, all new high records. Montgomery Ward touched another new top at 351.

Awful Waste of Food

"With only 35 per cent of the 23,730,000 American homes having refrigerators, and with only 20 per cent of these using refrigeration all the year, housewives in the United States waste $700,000,000 in food annually through spoilage," according to an engineering official, who figures spoilage at 10 cents per day for most families. Were it possible to check the needless waste it would be found that values would be sufficient to feed one of the major nations of western Europe.

Sunday School Convention Oct. 27

The annual convention of the Ulster County Sunday School Association will be held Saturday, October 27, at Trinity M. E. Church on Wurts street, Kingston. A very interesting program is in store for all who attend.

The convention is divided into three distinct sections, giving ample time to each division of Sunday school work and departments. The morning session, or children's division, will be addressed by Miss Harriet Edna Beard; the afternoon session, or young people's division, by the Rev. Dr. Lucas Boeve, and the evening session, or adult division, by Dr. H. G. Landes.

Opportunity will be given after each address for questions and open forum for the purpose of clearing up any problem that may exist in any department of work.

Following is the program for the day:

Rev. C. Van Tol, president, presiding.

Morning Session—Children's Division.

10—Devotional service .... Rev. C. Van Tol.

10:15—Address, "The Artist Teacher" Miss Harriet Edna Beard, state superintendent of Children's Division.

10:45—Practical Children's Works. Mrs. P. Cady.

11—Discussion of Children's Work, led by Miss H. Beard.

11:25—Offering.

11:30—Treasurer's report. Appointment of committees.

12—Song, prayer, recess.

Afternoon Session—Young People's Division.

2—Devotional Service .... Rev. F. W. Moot.

2:15—Address....Dr. Lucas Boeve

2:45—Discussion.

3:15—Offering.

3:20—Business meeting. Report of committees.

4—Address......Dr. W. G. Landes General secretary of State S. S. Association.

Evening Session—Adult Division.

7:30—Devotional Service .... Rev. O. E. Brandorff.

7:45—Report of nominating committee. Offering.

8—Address—"Christian Education and a Changing World," Dr. W. G. Landes. Adjournment.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Oct. 20 (AP).—(State Department of Agriculture)—The short supply of Concord grapes unloaded on the local wholesale sections this morning sold more readily and values averaged a shade higher. A large volume of the business was at 47½ @ 50 cents per 12-quart basket. California juice grapes were plentiful. Sales ranged from .70-$2.00 per lug.

Early morning trading was exceedingly light on white cabbage. Receipts were light but fair supplies were on hand from previous arrivals. The latest sales were reported at $30.00-32.50 per ton on domestic stock and $35.00-38.00, rarely $40.00, on Danish.

Strictly fancy, well blanched celery met a moderate outlet but ordinary and green received scant attention. Arrivals from upstate New York were moderate. Jobbing sales on the very best celery, in the rough, were made at $2.75-3.00 per two-thirds crate. Some exceptionally fine stock commanded $3.25-3.50. Off-grade ranged from $1.00-2.00.

The apple market was without any noticeable change either in values or demand. Fresh receipts were moderate but fair supplies have been carried over from the first of the week.

The apple exports from the United States and Canada to October 6, 1928 have totaled 1,505,882 boxes and 773,790 barrels.

Receipts of domestic yellow onions were moderate. The tone of the market was dull and weak, particularly on small to medium sized stock of ordinary quality. The production forecast of onions in the principal late producing states was further reduced by 800,000 bushels, making the present total appromixately 11,930,000 bushels. The greatest shortage, compared with last year, is still in eastern districts. Indiana's crop of 2,225,000 bushels exceeds that of any other state.

Arrivals of upstate New York lettuce were moderate. Trading was fair and the very best big Boston again sold as high as $2.00 per crate. Inferior, however, changed hands as low as 50 cents. Western Iceberg wholesaled at $4.50-6.00.

Many Fish Lose Lives as Sea Dries

Allahabad.—Several thousand fish and other sea animals lost their lives when the sea receded for a distance of more than a mile near Alleppey, Travancore.

The recession is believed to have been caused by volcanic eruptions. Hundreds of fishing boats were left high and dry.

A similar case of receding sea was reported half a century ago at Travancore, also due to volcanic disturbances.

Local Death Record

The funeral of Dr. John G. O'Leary, who died Friday at his home, No. 131 Fair street, will be held from the late residence on Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock and at St. Peters' Church at 10 o'clock where a solemn Mass of requiem will be celebrated for the repose of his soul. Interment in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Ella Wyant, wife of Edward J. Tisdell, died at her home in Newark, N. J., on Thursday, October 11. Besides her husband she is survived by the following children: Mrs. Ella Schuler, Edna, Winifred, Francis and Edward Tisdell, Jr.; one brother, Calvin Wyant, and a sister, Mrs. Rebecca Carlson. Mrs. Tisdell, who was forty-eight years old, was a former resident of Kingston.

The funeral of Henry S. Straley, who died suddenly at Hoboken, Thursday, will be held from the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sebastian Straley, 196 Hasbrouck avenue, Monday at 8:45 a. m. and at St. Mary's Church at 9:30 o'clock, where a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery.

The funeral of Joseph P. Volk, who died on Tuesday, was held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Morris, 11 Third avenue, Friday morning, at 9 o'clock and 9:30 at St. Peter's Church, where a requiem Mass was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Joseph Huband. The services were very largely attended by his many relatives and friends. The floral tributes were profuse and beautiful, completely surounding the Venetian bronze casket in which the remains reposed. The bearers were Casper Michels, Anthony Gallagher, Joseph Smith, Thomas Clancey, Henry Kelsch and Joseph Popeck. Interment was in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery where the final absolution was given by the Rev. Father Huband.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Winskey Long, wife of Michael R. Long, was held from her late home, No. 26 Van Gaasbeck street, this morning at 9 o'clock and 9:30 at St. Peter's Church where a requiem Mass was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. John P. Neumann. The services were very largely attended by her many relatives and friends, there being also a large delegation from the Society of Christian Mothers in attendance. The floral tributes were profuse and beautiful, silent tribute of the high esteem in which she was held by all who knew her. The bearers were John, Joseph, Alfred and Raymond Long and Charles and John Murphy, all nephews of the deceased. Interment was in a vault in the family plot in St. Peter's cemetery where the final absolution was given by the Rev. Father Neumann.

Walter J. Kidd, Sr., died suddenly about 10:30 o'clock at his home 163 Boulevard Friday evening. Death was due to a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Kidd, who was a well known railroad man, having been a conductor on the West Shore railroad for a number of years, had returned from work Friday apparently in his usual good health. While in the yard near his garage he was seized with a sinking spell and Dr. Gannon was summoned. When the doctor arrived Mr. Kidd had expired. Through many years employment on the railroad Mr. Kidd had many friends along the line as well as in this city. Besides his wife he is survived by a son, Walter J. Kidd, Jr.; two sisters, Mrs. Howard Durham of St. Remy and Mrs. Frank Kline of Hopwell Junction, and a niece, Edna E. Halwick, at home. Mr. Kidd was a member of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church. Fraternally he was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Loyal Order of Moose, American Mechanics and the Patriotic Sons of America. Funeral services from his late residence on Monday at 2:30 p. m., with interment in Wiltwyck cemetery.

When Gasoline Was Dumped Into Ocean

In the process of distilling petroleum, the lighter oils, naphtha and gasoline are first obtained, and these were considered waste products for many years. Kerosene, the heavier oils and greases, constituted the greatest demand, and gasoline had only a limited use in exceedingly small quantities, such as the cleaning of fabrics.

Not only was gasoline practically useless in the "good old days," but it was dangerous because of the attendant risk of fire which was ever present wherever quantities were stored. Millions of gallons were loaded into huge tanks on barges, transported far out to sea, and there dumped. Thus was the fire hazard averted.

The advent of the internal combustion engine changed all this, and gasoline in a few years became the principal product of the petroleum trade. Kerosene lost caste with the coming of the electric light. The development of the automobile made the petroleum industry one of the richest of the nation, and the "dangerous byproduct" became one of our principal articles of trade.

In the early days of the automobile, when fuel was cheap, few manufacturers paid much attention to operating costs of their cars. Automobiles were costly, and the men who purchased them were wealthy. Gasoline was comparatively cheap, and the early automobiles used plenty of it.

Modern times have changed all this, and economy of operation is one of the essential requirements of the present-day automobile. Exhaustive tests are made and every available scientific aid is used in this research.

Old Age at the Altar

Marriage statistics of South Africa record the wedding of one centenarian and four other men, each more than ninety-five years of age. Three hundred bridegrooms of eighty-five and over are mentioned, as well as three centenarian brides.

Society Notes

Sorosis-Twentieth Century.

There will be a joint meeting of the Twentieth Century Club and Sorosis on Monday afternoon, next, at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. C. A. Hendricks, 103 Albany avenue, when Miss Lyon of Albany will address the clubs on Current Events.

Monday Club.

The first of the series of lectures to be given by the Monday Club will occur on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the chapel of the First Reformed Church, when Dr. Bernard I. Bell, president of St. Stephen's College, will deliver the first lecture under the general topic, "Problems of Modern Social and Political Life."

Double Birthday Celebration.

A combined birthday party was given Wednesday evening, October 17, at the home of Mrs. E. Barringer, 44 Van Deusen avenue, in honor of her mother, who celebrated her 80th birthday, and Mrs. J. Yerry Jr.'s 23rd birthday. Dancing, games, stunts, music and singing were enjoyed. Luncheon was served around 11:30 also ice cream and eleven fancy birthday cakes, including two with candles, one for each hostess. The candles were lighted and other lights turned out and the 51 guests present were asked to be silent while Mrs. Markle, the aged hostess, was asked to give a prayer and all united in repeating the Lord's Prayer. One could hear a pin drop, it was so quiet during her prayer, and the hearts of those present were enlightened by her words and returned to their homes with Jesus Christ in them and wishing they could be as well prepared as she. The gifts consisted of money, fruit, flowers, candy and many other useful articles. Mrs. Yerry's gifts also were many and beautiful. The guests departed at an early hour and wishing Mrs. Markle and Mrs. Yerry many more happy birthdays. Those present were: Mrs. E. Barringer and daughter, Mildred, Floyd and LeRoy Barringer, Mrs. John Markle and family, Mrs. Kasper Gerlock and children, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis and children, Mrs. Moses Christiana, a sister of the hostess; Miss Edna Buchanan, Alfred Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Tyler C. Hughes and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Markle, Jr., Alvin Markle, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Markle and family of Krumville, Mr. and Mrs. Jonah Christiana and daughter, Elizabeth, Mrs. Mariah J. Markle, hostess; Mrs. Joseph Hoffman, Mrs. Albert Waterman, Mrs. Samuel Howard, Mrs. John Rosa, Mrs. Joseph Yerry Jr., hostess; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hamilton and baby, Alfred Elmendorf, a brother of the hostess.

The Native Doctor

The native trained in medical work is becoming a main factor in bringing about the new day in Africa, states the Missionary Herald, an English Baptist monthly. It says further: M. Louis Franck's humorous description of the native medical assistant confronting the witch doctor could be echoed by every missionary. "Standing before the witch doctor he says to that ancient charlatan—'You are an ass,' and then proceeds to prove it.' 'Look,' says he, 'through the lens of my microscope at the minute creature shown there. This is the cause of disease, not the entrance of an evil spirit. You know nothing at all about it. I am the one who knows.' Hence the end of the witch doctor's influence."

Primitive Counting

While enjoying a holiday in Finland, writes an English traveler, I flew across by seaplane to spend a day in Reval, the capital of Esthonia, and I was very interested to see that in all shops they still use the ancient and primitive abacus, the frame with colored balls, used in kindergartens, for purposes of adding. I went first to a bank to change a sovereign. They accepted the coin with some suspicion and checked the notes they gave me on one of these ball frames, and when I went to the post office to get a set of stamps as a souvenir they totaled the amount I had to pay by the same method. I am no mathematician, but I got my total first.

Danger in Transplanting

Trees, like people, lose adaptability with advancing age, and a comparatively minor change in their environments may be fatal.

Entomologists of the Department of Agriculture say that transplanting almost always is a severe test for trees of considerable size and many transplanted trees are attacked by insects. If most of the large trees in a grove are killed, leaving only a border of trees or small groups, the survivors often suffer serious damage and die.

This may be the result of a disturbance of moisture conditions and a change from general shade to large areas of sun-baked soil. Borers then may complete the deadly work.

Milky Way

The most stupendous of all celestial objects is the Galaxy, more commonly known as the Milky Way. In fact it is our whole universe, of which the sun with all its attendant family of planets, including asteroids and satellites, as well as comets, forms a very humble member. Its appearance as a dim white band crossing the heavens is merely a matter of perspective; that band marks simply the plane of greatest extension of the Milky Way—the direction in which the stars, in reality fairly uniformly distributed, appear congested by the effect of distance. Many of these stars are immensely brighter than the sun.

Will Seek Aid of U. S. Financers

They Will Be Asked to Participate as Individuals in Consideration of German Reparations—American Government Not Invited.

Paris, Oct. 20 (AP).—One or two Americans of highest standing in the financial world will be requested by the German and allied governments to participate in the meetings of the committee of experts which will take up the question of German reparations.

The preliminary work of preparing for the forthcoming discussion has advanced so far that the composition of the committee may be announced within a fortnight. Yesterday's conversations between Premier Poincare, S. Parker Gilbert, Jr., agent general for reparations, and Winston Churchill, British Chancellor of the exchequer, and their later meeting with J. P. Morgan is regarded as having brought discussions of fixation of war debt and its commercialization to a point where the action of experts may be started.

The experts' committee will recommend a final plan for reparations payments.

That the American government will not be invited as a government to send a representative was understood at the discussions. It was pointed out that Washington was not asked to be represented on the Dawes Committee but that Charles G. Dawes, Owen D. Young and Henry M. Robinson were invited to participate as individuals by the Reparations Commission. The state department, however, was asked by James A. Logan, Jr., then American observer of the Reparations Commission, if there was any objection to the participation of the Americans and the state department replied there was none.

The same procedure may be followed now, but in any case care will be taken not to invite Americans who might for any reason be objectionable to their own government.

Thus the American government will have an "unofficial" right of veto.

The conversations are pretty well advanced as to principles upon which the experts committee shall proceed. The Belgian and Italian governments have been consulted by the British, French and German governments so that an official announcement may be expected relatively soon. The committee will not meet until December at the earliest. It seems most likely that the heaviest part of its work will commence in January.

Odds and Ends

The weekly rehearsal of the Citizens' Band will be held at Elks' Club at 10:30 Sunday morning.

About the Folks

Joseph J. Morgan, of the Moran Business School, is in New York city today attending sessions of the National Business Show at the New Madison Square Garden.

First Deputy County Clerk Charles R. O'Connor left town today for a ten days' hunting trip in the wilds of Canada. This is the first vacation trip of Mr. O'Connor in eight years.

Food for Thought

We often wonder what a center of population that hasn't any college president emeritus residing in its midst does when it needs a chairman of the committee engaged in the promotion of any given worthy cause. —Ohio State Journal.

Feeter Appointed Supervisor

J. William Feeter of Highland was appointed supervisor of the town of Lloyd to succeed the late Philip Schantz, at a meeting of the town board Thursday and met with the board of supervisors for the first time Friday night.

Supervisor Feeter was born in Madison county. He was graduated from Fairfield Seminary at Fairfield. He went to Highland in 1883 to be principal of the Highland school serving in this capacity four years. In 1881 he married Carrie M. Hasbrouck of Highland.

Later he engaged in the fruit packing business with Congressman Harcourt J. Pratt, and in 1892 entered the hardware business, continuing until the spring of 1922, when he retired. Mr. Feeter is active in local Masonic circles, serving for two terms as district deputy grand master for the old 15th district under Charles Smith, grand master of Oneonta.

Mr. Feeter is a director of the First National Bank of Highland. For years he was a member of the board of education of the Highland school. He is also president of the Highland Chamber of Commerce.

Poultry Hints

Man has to hustle, but a hen makes money "laying around."

• • •

Sick birds should be segregated and proper remedies applied. Probably vaccination is as good a remedy and preventative as can be used.

• • •

The value of clean feed in preventing poultry disease is being realized more and more by poultrymen. All feed should be given to chicks in clean troughs or hoppers.

• • •

It is a good plan, when starting into the turkey raising business, or if in it now, to plan the production program over a period of more than one year. If this is done yards can be planned so that they may be rotated and so that the poults can be raised on fresh ground.

• • •

Poor layers have the opposite characteristics of those given to be used in the selection of breeders. They have thick, rigid pelvic bones; but two or three finger widths spans between these and the rear of the keel bone.

• • •

If a strict separation of turkeys and chickens is to be secured, as is vitally necessary for success with the former, the producer is obliged to raise his poults in confinement. In addition to the value of this method in preventing disease it also has its merits in that the poults can be given closer supervision.

• • •

Hens don't stop laying to molt. They molt when they stop laying. Of course it's natural for them to let up on egg production, so they can grow their new winter coats.

• • •

Ancient Industry

In the village of Parson Drove, in the fen country, near Wisbech, on the borders of Lincolnshire and Cambridgeshire, England, a wood mill is still in seasonal operation, and its processes differ little probably from those in vogue in prehistoric times. Huge cumbrous wooden rollers drawn by horses are still used to crush the plants, and the dye extracted now has its uses in newer industries. In fact, for certain purposes its value still remains superior to all modern substitutes.

Self-Created Slavery

Man has made so many and such marvelous machines, thinks a modern philosopher writing in the American Magazine, that he has become enslaved to them in thought as well as in action.

FARM POULTRY

BUCKWHEAT GOOD FATTENING FEED

Buckwheat is a pretty good fattening feed for turkeys. Some prefer barley and corn, however. Either barley or oats if mixed with buttermilk and the hulls removed would be a preferred mixture. The buckwheat has the objectionable quality of making a woody, tough skin which is not good feed. A mixture of all three or four would do pretty well.

Some results sent in give the costs of feeding one part ground oats with hulls removed and two parts buttermilk as being 6½ cents per pound, while the cost of feeding on equal parts ground barley, oats and corn, with the oat and barley hulls removed and with the same relative amount of buttermilk, averaged about the same. A mixture of 200 parts corn meal, 150 parts ground oats, hulls removed, 50 parts red dog flour, 8 parts tallow, 700 parts buttermilk, averaged a cost of about 5 cents per pound.

Using equal parts ground oats and barley, hulls removed, one part beef scraps and eight parts buttermilk, the cost was shown to be 4½ cents per pound. Of course, these costs were not figured lately, but the comparisons remain. The Cornell fattening ration of 100 pounds corn meal, 100 pounds buckwheat middlings, 100 pounds oat flour, 20 pounds beef scraps, and one part charcoal, is considered, too, a very fattening ration.

Sodium Fluoride Best for Destroying Vermin

Sodium fluoride is one of the best substances to use for getting rid of chicken lice. It can be purchased at almost any drug store. It can be applied by the "pinch" method, or by mixing with four parts of talc or fine dust and using a dusting can or by making a dip. The pinch method is most commonly used. In this method the hen is held in such a way that the feathers loosen up and one pinch is applied to the head, one on the neck, two on the back, one on the breast, one below the vent, one on the tail, one on each thigh and one on the underside of each wing. This application should be repeated in about eight days so as to kill the lice that were in the egg form during the first application.

Blue ointment is usually mixed with equal portions of grease. Three pea-sized portions are rubbed into the feathers—one around the vent and the other two under each wing.

If head lice are present it is usually better to apply some lard with 10 to 20 per cent kerosene thoroughly mixed with it or with 5 per cent of carbolic acid.

Producing Capons for Consumption at Home

The matter of producing capons for home consumption has not had proper emphasis. Everyone is aware of the superiority of meat from unsexed larger animals and as a rule such male animals are never used unless operated upon. But the fact that capon meat is as superior to rooster meat as steer beef is to bull beef is not generally realized. The farmer and poultryman should not be content with a low grade food stuff when it is very easily possible to have the best. The time will come, no doubt, when we will insist on capon quality in fowls as much as we do now for steer beef.

Throws Away Medal as He Becomes American

Oshkosh, Wis.—The iron cross and Theodore Borutzki's name have been offered in a final gesture renouncing allegiance to Germany.

Borutzki, veteran of the German army of the World war, on becoming a naturalized American citizen changed his name to Quentin Roosevelt in honor of the late President Roosevelt's son, who was killed in an aerial duel in France during the war.

The iron cross which Borutzki won through valor will go to France, where affixed to a wreath it will be placed on the grave of Quentin Roosevelt.

Supervisor M[illegible] offered a resolution that $[illegible] be appropriated as the county's share for plans pertaining to the [illegible] the West Shore Railroad tracks at Broadway crossing, Kingston, being one-third of estimated cost and clerk and chairman be authorized to enter into an agreement as to plans.

Assemblyman Bentley of Greene county, one of a special commission to investigate the reforesting of lands in New York state, was given privileges of the floor and asked for co-operation of the county in determining the practicability of taking lands for the purpose.

Tributes to Schantz and Patten.

Supervisor Young offered a resolution that when the board adjourns it do so out of respect to the memory of Supervisors Philip Schantz and Eugene F. Patten. He spoke of the fine qualities of each man. Although they were of different political beliefs, they worked in harmony together for the best interests of the taxpayers, always being in favor of advancement of the towns and county. Supervisor Fecter spoke of the high qualities of Mr. Schantz as a neighbor and citizen, a wonderful man who always strived to do everything that he thought was right, and his loss is mourned by all who knew him.

A number of bills growing out of right of way for highways were read, declared correct and warrants were ordered issued. Bills for tax sale expenses were ordered paid out of funds in hands of county treasurer, also bill from Hospital for Crippled Children for which money had heretofore been appropriated.

On motion of Supervisor Young the board then adjourned out of respect to the memory of Supervisors Schantz and Patten, subject to the call of the chair.

Senator Curtis In Connecticut

Will Speak at Hartford Tonight—Tells New Jersey Audience How Republican Party Protects American Labor Through the Tariff.

Enroute with Senator Curtis to New Haven, Conn., Oct. 20 (AP).—Connecticut, almost a side yard of New York, was the objective today of Senator Charles Curtis, the Republican vice presidential nominee as he concluded another heavy week of campaigning for his party's cause.

Tonight he speaks at Hartford. Leaving Trenton, N. J., early today after two strenuous days in that state, he stopped over in New York for a visit with party leaders. He will stop at New Haven late in the afternoon and again at Meriden before proceeding to the night meeting.

A national radio hookup was at the disposal of the vice-presidential nominee at Trenton last night and he gave the most of his half hour of time on the radio to reading his party's record during the last seven years and asking its retention in power on that record. Also he lashed again at the Democrats on the tariff, declaring their proposal for a "competitive" tariff was "no tariff at all." He referred to Governor Smith, saying his Louisville declaration for protection of American labor from "ruinous competition" did not go far enough.

"The Republican party," he said, "wants to protect, and has protected American labor not only from ruinous competition but also from foreign competition of any kind."

The senator again referred to Governor Smith as "the distinguished gentleman who thinks he is running for president." His enthusiastic Trenton audience was ready to cheer at all times and gave this along with some remarks about the governor's tariff position a hand.

COPELAND SAYS "DRY" SENATOR WAS DRUNK

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP).—Senator Royal S. Copeland told the Tompkins County Democratic committee here last night that at a senatorial dinner in Washington one "dry" senator became so intoxicated he fell from his chair.

He declared he never saw so much liquor before as he saw at the senatorial dinner and that "all the dry senators there are in Washington wouldn't fill a taxicab." Charges that Governor Smith gets drunk he said were "devilish lies."

Himself a Methodist, the senator, who is seeking reelection, assailed the churches for dabbling in politics and said "I would as soon see a Catholic pope in the White house as a Methodist pope."

Speaking of Mrs. Smith he described her as a "sweet, charming and gracious hostess" and compared her favorably with Mrs. Coolidge.

U. S. FUNDS ENDOW BIG FRENCH MEDICAL SCHOOL

Lyon, France, Oct. 20 (AP).—This city will soon boast of the best equipped medical school in Europe, thanks to the generosity of the Rockefeller foundation.

The new building, which covers two acres, will be finished by the end of the year. The accommodation is so comprehensive that the "carabins", as the French call the young "sawbones", will find everything they need on the premises, including a garage for their automobiles, and stores where they may purchase at reduced rates books and instruments.

Hotel Detective Shot To Death

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 20 (AP).—Summoned to the side entrance of the Jefferson Hotel by two unknown persons, one of whom may have been a woman, Sam Bickley, the house detective, was shot to death late last night while a half dozen persons stood nearby.

The assailants drove up to the hotel in a touring car. Leaving the motor running, they sent a bell boy to fetch the detective. After a short conversation, Bickley was seen to place one foot on the running board. A shot was fired and he fell dead. The slayers sped away in their automobile.

Police, investigating the case today, were unable to advance a reason for the shooting and hotel officials likewise were at a loss to assign a motive.

A shotgun was fired directly into Bickley's chest. Two additional clues were at hand—one a report that the automobile of the slayers bore a Georgia license plate and the other the possibility that one of the two in the machine may have been a woman, adduced from the fact that Bickley was seen to lift his hat as he approached.

ASKS INFORMATION ON HOW WINDOWS WERE JUDGED

To The Editor of The Freeman.
Sir:

So many comments have been passed regarding the selection of the winners of the recent window dressing contest staged by the Uptown Business Men's Association that the writer would like to be informed as to how the points are scored. After comparing notes with a number of people whose daily duties are more or less involved in the trimming of windows and also with professionals in this line of work the writer cannot understand why such windows as the Paris Hat Shop, Up To Date and Van Wagenen's were not mentioned when they drew such favorable comment from all but the judges. It may be possible that the above stores are excluded because they employ imported professional window trimmers but if this is so, why not issue such a statement at the time of awarding the prizes.

Very truly yours,
MRS. ALVA ROOSA,

City.

BERLIN RANKS IN AREA NEXT TO LOS ANGELES

Berlin, Oct. 20 (AP).—With a speed equalling that of any booming western city in America, Berlin has become the second largest city in the world territorially, today covering an area of 87,810 hectars or 216,891 acres, according to the Berlin Statistical Bureau. It is only exceeded in size by Los Angeles, while London, with its 7,500,000 inhabitants, is only half as large and Paris, with a population of 3,000,000, only one-tenth the size.
